Boom and Baseball.
Hoover and Smith.
Well, King George Won.
No Jugo-Slav Ostrich.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright 1928.)

WALL STREET was booming again yesterday, dividing public interest in New York, with the opening of the baseball season.

NEW YORK, "where the money is," once supplied nearly half the business of Wall Street. Now New Yorkers do only 10 per cent of speculating, 90 per cent is scattered throughout the country.

THIS means a stock speculating craze is nationwide.

Those that buy what they can pay for and keep it, may sleep soundly.

But those gambling will worry, when the time comes, "and how," as the current saying goes.

At present business is "stepping up." There is an improvement all along the line, and no storms are in sight.

AMONG Republican candidates for the presidency, Herbert Hoover leads by a good margin over his nearest competitor, Gov. Lowden.

As for the Democrats, Gov. Smith, of New York, is so far in the lead that there is no second worth mentioning. The Governor has now safely secured 354 votes, within 14 of the highest number of delegates voting for him in 1924.

It seems a pity to make delegates go all the way to Houston to find out what they know already.

It is pretty hard to beat King George of England, the election in Chicago proves it. However, one primary will not discourage "Big Bill" Thompson. He is Mayor, and will continue to act as such, primary or no primary.

JUGO SLAVS have added two new submarines to their naval equipment at Cattaro. It may interest you to remember that the undersea boats are named "Netojscha" and "Hrabri." Many fighting Jugo Slav hydroplanes accompany the submarines to their base. Jugo-Slavia expects trouble from Mussolini.

Uncle Sam, like the ostrich, has a better plan. He puts his head in the sand, counts his money and hopes for the best.

WERE Mark Hanna alive he would be interested in the Illinois election and surprised to hear that his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, is probably chosen Congressman-at-large.

LINDBERGH took 26 young Pacific coast girls up in the air, in instalments yesterday, giving those charming creatures something to talk about forever.

Women may thank the good Lord for granting the flying machine. They can fly on the average as well as any man, and the airplane is another step toward real equality.

THE effort to abolish the unwise tax on automobiles develops the fact that the government collected a thousand million dollars from automobile owners and spent only six hundred millions on better roads—not fair to the men that pay for the cars, "war tax included."

The war ended some time since and the foolish tax ought to end.

A COMPANY is formed to build seadromes, ocean landing places to be scattered over the Atlantic. The theory is that trans-Atlantic airplanes would land, get fuel and start again.

But by the time the Atlantic is "dotted with seadromes," planes will fly across the Atlantic as easily as they now fly across the English Channel.

IN the second place, if it is hard for fliers in somewhat foggy weather to find the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific, how difficult would it be for them to find a landing place "dot" in the Pacific? As hard as finding a turtle asleep on the Pacific.

MUSSOLINI decides finally that handshaking must go, and young Fascisti are instructed to give the impressive Fascist salute. No handshaking, it spreads infectious diseases. Civilized beings, especially middle aged Americans, accustomed to having their fingers crushed two or three times a day by young "go-getters," would like that rule adopted everywhere.

THE French are delighted at the discovery of wonderfully rich new iron ore deposits "in long horizontal stratum" on their own soil. Anybody might have made the discovery and also make a fortune by reading carefully Julius Caesar's account of his campaign in Gaul. He described those deposits of ore.

ALEXANDER VS. BUCS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Sun-Tele Staff Correspondent.

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran right-hander of the National League and at present of the St. Louis Cardinals, is to be nominated by Skipper Bill McKechnie to face the Pirates in the second clash of the opening series here today.

In opposition to Alex the Great, Manager Donie Bush of the Buccaneers expects to use Burleigh Grimes, another veteran and a 1928 addition to the Pirate hurling staff. Grimes was obtained from the New York Giants in a trade involving Vic Aldridge.

Despite the lambasting they took yesterday, when the Cardinals pounded Remy Kremer and Lester Bartholomew for a 14-7 win, the Pirates were not downhearted this morning as they prepared for the second tussle. The players and Manager Bush were well pleased with the punch that the team showed, even in the defeat. The team's pep is still up, and it is the earnest aim of all concerned to improve the play afield this afternoon, which was so ragged yesterday.

Who's Who, What's What On Latest Ocean Flight

MICHAEL MAC DONAAGH, OF COSTELLOE STATION COAST SERVICE IN GALWAY BAY, IRELAND, PROBABLY WAS THE LAST MAN TO SIGHT THE BREMEN TODAY BEFORE SHE ENTERED ON HER GREAT TRANS-ATLANTIC ADVENTURE.

THE MONOPLANE WAS HUGGING THE COAST AND APPARENTLY BECAUSE OF THE DENSE FOG, WAS MAKING FOR SLYNE HEAD, THE MOST WESTERLY GALWAY POINT FROM WHICH TO TAKE HER BEARINGS.

Poor flying conditions for the Bremen in the Newfoundland area were forecast early this morning, although when the report was given out the weather here was excellent. The forecast predicted an easterly gale with rain.

THE BREMEN IS A LOW-WINGED ALL-METAL MONOPLANE OF DURALUMIN (A PATENTED ALUMINUM ALLOY.) ITS WING SPREAD IS 55 FEET, AND ITS FUSELAGE 35 FEET LONG. THE WATER-COOLED MOTOR DEVELOPS A MAXIMUM OF 360 HORSEPOWER. THE BREMEN CAN FLY 130 MILES AN HOUR ALTHOUGH 90 MILES AN HOUR IS REGARDED AS THE MOST ECONOMICAL SPEED FOR AN OCEAN FLIGHT.

Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld spent his last pfennig and borrowed from 14 friends to make up the $50,000 required to cover the cost of the flight and insurance. He made an unsuccessful attempt to fly to America in the Bremen last summer.

THERE ARE NO SAFETY DEVICES ABOARD, SUCH AS SWIMMING BELTS, RUBBER BOATS, EMERGENCY RATIONS, AND NO RADIO IS BEING CARRIED TO KEEP THE PLANE IN TOUCH WITH THE WORLD. A PISTOL, WRAPPED IN OIL CLOTH, IS BEING TAKEN IN PLACE OF SAFETY DEVICES.

The ship carries 2,500 pounds of benzol, primed with ether. This is thought to be sufficient fuel to keep it in the air for 40 to 45 hours, giving a flying radius of about 4,500 miles, which is approximately 1,000 miles more than the distance from Dublin to New York.

BARON VON HUENEFELD WAS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED DURING THE WAR AND INVALIDED OUT OF THE SERVICE. HE WAS SENT TO HOLLAND AS A CONSUL.

The Junkers monoplane Bremen, in which the flight is being made, accomplished the first leg from Tempelhofer Airdrome, Berlin, to Dublin in 9½ hours. Following a circuitous route, it covered 992 miles at an average speed of nearly 106 miles an hour.

CAPT. HERMANN KOEHL, PILOT, WAS BORN AT ULM, GERMANY, IN 1888. HE WAS IN THE

Three dauntless airmen following a trail on which all their predecessors, five men and two women, died, were presumably more than half way across the ocean this afternoon on the latest attempt to traverse the western air lane of the North Atlantic, never yet spanned by an airplane.

The Junkers monoplane Bremen, with its crew of two Germans and one Irishman, took off from Baldonnel Airdrome, near Dublin, at 12:38 eastern standard time this morning, and when it was last seen over the western coast of Ireland it had maintained a speed of 90 miles an hour.

If this speed, the most economical for the German ship, was continued over the ocean, the Bremen would have been at just about mid-ocean at 12:38 this afternoon, 12 hours after the takeoff.

Weather over the first leg of the ocean route was reported to be excellent, with less favorable conditions ahead off the Grand Banks.

The fliers, Baron Ehrenfried Von Huenfeld, sponsor, and Capt. Hermann Koehl and Col. James Fitzmaurice, pilots, hoped to fly over New Foundland some time around midnight and reach Mitchell Field about noon tomorrow, but it was recognized that adverse winds might delay the arrival several hours.

HOP AT 5:38 A. M.

DUBLIN April 12.—(INS.)—Determined to be the first to span the Atlantic Ocean in a westward flight, Capt. Hermann Koehl, Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, and Baron Ehrenfried von Huenefeld, hopped off from the Baldonnel airfield for America in the Junkers monoplane Bremen at 5:38 a. m. today.

Undaunted by the recent tragic disappearance of the British fliers, Capt. Hinchliffe and Miss Mackay, the two German airmen and their Irish companion departed upon re-

CITY CLUBS, SALOONS, HOTELS PADLOCKED

Preliminary padlock injunctions were granted today by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson against 57 saloons, clubs, hotels and other establishments throughout the city. The action was on complaints by Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, supported by affidavits of prohibition agents, citing two or more "purchasers" of liquors in each place and at least one raid at each place.

Final hearings will be held June 18.

It was the largest number of injunctions ever filed at one time in the Federal district court, and is in accord with recent announcements from Washington that special drives will be made by the prohibition authorities in efforts to obtain "padlocks" on places violating the Volstead act.

Among the places enjoined is the Typo Club, in Sixth avenue, Negley Inn, 5606 Penn avenue, Hiland Inn, 5921 Penn avenue, and several of the larger restaurants in East Liberty.

The complaints were presented to the court by Federal Prosecutor John D. Meyer and his assistant, Ralph H. Smith. The prohibition legal department was represented by C. R. Mason. A list of the places and alleged proprietors follows:

Bomb Kills 27; King Escapes

International News Service.

MILAN, Italy, April 12.—Twenty-seven persons were killed here today when assassins, who plotted to kill King Victor Emanuel, exploded a bomb in the crowded Julius Caesar square.

Fourteen persons were killed outright and 40 injured by the blast. Thirteen of the injured died later in the hospital. The dead include several soldiers.

A change in the king's plans probably saved his life.

The monarch, who came from Rome to open the Milan trade fair, arrived at the railway station just half an hour before the bomb was exploded. The fact that he went directly to the exhibition instead of stopping at the station for the planned reception is believed to have saved his life.

A plot to kill Premier Mussolini also failed.

Dogs Kill Doe in County Park

COURT REJECTS KLAN DEPOSITION

Plane Off On Hop To U. S.

MAY CARRY MINE PROBE TO COURT

PROF. A. JOSEPH KOEHL

The Bremen, German monoplane which hopped off from Baldonnel airdrome, Dublin, for Mitchel field, Long Island carries Capt. Hermann Koehl as chief pilot. Waiting for him here are Professor A. Joseph Koehl, New York music instructor, an uncle, and Eugene Zimmerer, newspaperman, a cousin.

VON HUENEFELD

Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld is backer of the flight. Coming over, he is to cook and keep the log. Co-pilot is Col. James Fitzmaurice, commandant, Irish Free State air forces.

OVER IRELAND

AT STARTING POINT

The Bremen, sister ship of the Europa, is making its second effort to fly the Atlantic. It was flown from Germany to Ireland for the start and is shown landing at Dublin above. It is a Junkers all-metal monoplane with a wing-spread of 55 feet. The motor is a Junkers L-5, 350 horsepower, water-cooled, which in the Europa won a world endurance flight record.

EXPERT

Pilot Koehl (right) is an expert, war veteran and famed German night flier. He is shown here as he climbed into the Bremen at Dublin to make a test flight shortly before the hop-off. The ship carries about 600 gallons of benzol primed with ether, enough fuel for 40 hours.

AUGUST LOOSE

August Loose originally was one of the pilots for the Bremen, but his connections with the flight were severed and his place taken by Col. Fitzmaurice, a recent development.

EX-DRAGON DENIED HEARING AT TRIAL

Records in the cross-suit against the Ku Klux Klan, which was dismissed by Judge W. H. S. Thomson in Federal Court, may be turned over to the various state authorities in a move to attack the charter privileges of the organization. This action was indicated at the opening of the fourth day's hearing in the case today.

"The decision of the court in deciding that the cross-suit is outside of its jurisdiction is only our 'Valley Forge,'" declared Attorney Van A. Barrickmon, chief counsel for the "banished members" of the klan, and himself one of them. "This fight is just beginning."

The technical victory won by the plaintiffs—the national organization of the Ku Klux Klan—as a result of yesterday's decision by Judge Thomson, was followed today when a large part of the testimony in the deposition of D. C. Stephenson was ruled out by the court. During the reading of the document constant objection was made by counsel for the klan and in nearly every instance the objections were sustained. Those portions of the deposition, where Stephenson had related methods of frame-ups for character assassination of prominent men, were ruled out.

Ralph E. Wolf, of Carnegie, an investigator, employed by Sam D. Rich, grand dragon of the klan in Pennsylvania, testified that he carried on private work for Rich, but was paid for this out of his check from the klan headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. The witness admitted that under Rich's orders he had seized papers of the kleagle at Kittanning and had gone to Uniontown with instructions to break up the machinery in the office of the "Watchman," a newspaper published by H. M. Likins. The paper had published articles detrimental to Rich, the witness said.

At this point the defendants rested.

DESCRIBES SHOOTING

Ray Bowser gave a dramatic account of the shooting of Thomas R. Abbott, a klansman, at the Carnegie demonstration. The witness said he was scarcely 10 feet from Abbott at the Glendal Bridge when the shooting occurred.

Rev. Willis A. Hall, of Johnstown, a minister of the Evangelical Church, described a demonstration at Kittanning in which he denied the statement of a defendant's witness that a cross had been burned before a Catholic Church.

CARRIED NO GUNS

Another witness who attended the Carnegie demonstration in 1923, was Leroy Smeltzer, of New Kensington, who denied that the klansmen carried firearms.

John Ogle, New Kensington klansman, also at Carnegie, testified three or four guards on the field carried revolvers in holsters. He said the great body of klansmen in the parade were singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" while the wounded were carried back along the line.

Fliers Off For U. S. Or—

ceiving the first favorable weather reports in several weeks.

Capt. Koehl handled the "joystick" of the plane at the take-off. Commandant Fitzmaurice, chief of the Irish Free State air force, who was to act as relief pilot, sat next to him in the cockpit. Von Huenefeld, who went along as observer, sat behind them between gas tanks.

While a crowd of several hundred soldiers on the field cheered, the heavily-loaded plane lifted gracefully from the field after a run of about a half a mile and headed westward. It gained altitude steadily and after a few minutes disappeared from view.

FLIERS CONFIDENT

All three fliers were confident that they would succeed in their venture. They smiled and waved from the plane as they started.

President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State shook hands with them before they entered the plane and wished them godspeed.

After weeks of reports of miserable weather over the Atlantic, the fliers were greatly elated last night when they learnd that conditions as far west as the mid-Atlantic were perfect for a trans-Atlantic flight. At 9 o'clock, it was announced that the hop-off would be made at dawn today.

The plane was wheeled from it's hangar at about 3:30 a. m. this morning and given a final inspection. It was found to be in perfect condition. A cordon of soldiers was strung about it to ward off the curious.

At dawn, Koehl and his companions came on the field smiling broadly and showing little nervousness. Von Huenefeld was happy as a youngster and pointed to the sun breaking through the clouds, meanwhile slapping Koehl on the back.

TO TAKE 40 HOURS

The fliers will take the northern "Great Circle" route usually used by trans-Atlantic fliers. They hope to arrive at Mitchel Field, N. Y., within 38 or 40 hours.

"We will use the northern route," Capt. Koehl announced as he donned his flying clothes. "We do not fear sleet so much now as weather conditions are perfect and our plane is completely paraffined. I think we will get to Mitchel Field within 38 or 40 hours."

If they maintain the schedule they have set for themselves, the fliers should pass Newfoundland early tomorrow morning and arrive at Mitchel Field sometime tomorrow afternoon.

The fliers were awakened at 4 o'clock this morning. After partaking of a hearty breakfast, Father O'Ariargan, chaplain at the airdrome, gave them holy communion.

In the gray light of the dawn, the Bremen presented a ghostly appearance. Passing automobiles, throwing their headlights on the plane, gave the impression that it was coated with frost.

Koehl was the first of the fliers to reach the plane. He tuned it up rapidly and pronounced it perfect. He carried a German flag when he took his seat in the cockpit.

Fitzmaurice, carrying an Irish flag, and Von Huenefeld followed in order.

The Bremen was accompanied to the coast by a small Napier plane carrying Capt. Carrol and Lieut. Russell of the Irish Free State Air force.

The fliers' food supply consisted of many sandwiches, and strong cofffee and beef tea in thermos flasks.

Officials at the field declared that on no previous flight attempt from Baldonnel had conditions been more perfect.

The sun shone gloriously overhead as the machine disappeared from view—an omen auguring success, watchers at the field declared.

There was a moment of suspense as the plane was enveloped in a cloud of black smoke just before it took to the air near the end of the specially built runway.

The German mechanics who had groomed the plane feared something had gone wrong and ran after it. The throng on the field was greatly relieved when the machine finally left the ground and disappeared over the airdrome swinging in a westerly direction towards Galway.

While the plane's engine roared steadily, the Irish tri-color broke out alongside the German flag as the plane disappeared.

Koehl made his decision to take the northern route because of reports of bad weather centering to the southward. He stated that he expected the plane would average 90 miles an hour on the flight.

Commandant Fitzmaurice was obviously elated. He made the following statement exclusively to the International News Service staff correspondent on the field:

"As chief of the Irish Free State Air Force, I am participating in this flight to further Irish aviation in general. Ireland's geographical position is all-important to the world as far as future aviation is concerned. I hope to be in America within a few hours and meet old friends there.

"We have a fine machine and will reach America safely with decent luck."

THE KLAN UNMASKED

(Copyright by International News Service.)

In previous installments of his deposition, now part of the court records here, David C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the klan in Indiana, has told of the origin of the order, and of the subsequent machinations of one faction within the klan to remove the founders and others who opposed the new regime by character and actual physical assassination.

Today he covers his own trial for the murder of Madge Oberholtzer, at Noblesville, Ind. He charges perjury, falsification of records and organized conspiracy to prevent his obtaining a fair trial. He charges that he was threatened with death as he sat in the witness chair if he took the witness stand in his own defense.

His deposition, as taken by Van A. Barrickman, Pittsburgh attorney, in the Indiana state penitentiary at Michigan City continues:

Q. Mr. Stephenson, do you have any enmity or bitter feeling at this time, or hatred?

A. No. I have no hatred. It is rather an attitude of pity and sympathy. It would be more accurate to say the same intuition that causes one to refrain from kicking a skunk causes me to desist from having an association or a contact with them.

Q. Did they have anything to do

OPERATORS MAY CARRY PROBE TO COURTS

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The possibility that the Southern West Virginia operators will take their fight against the Senate coal investigation into the courts was seen today. Counsel for the operators continued to argue that the Senate lacked power to conduct the inquiry. E. L. Greever, one of the attorneys, bluntly told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee that the subjects into which it was inquiring were "none of the Federal Government's business" and that, even if it found that coal companies had abrogated wage contracts and evicted miners' families from their homes, and that the railroads had conspired to depress the cost of coal produced by union labor, Congress could do nothing about it.

Comments by members of the committee indicated that Greever's contentions were falling upon unsympathetic ears. It is being generally predicted that the committee will overrule the operators and require them to answer the questions to which they are objecting so strenuously, particularly those having to do with production costs. What the next step will be is problematical; but there is some likelihood that the operators will defy the Senate and look for defense to the courts.

Former United States Senator A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, who is serving as attorney for the southern West Virginia coal companies in this matter, was asked if, in the event of an adverse ruling from the committee, his clients would refuse to answer questions and render themselves liable to punishment for contempt. He said no decision had been reached. In case they did refuse, he stated, and were arrested for contempt, the procedure would be to throw the question into the courts by seeking the contumacious witnesses' release through a writ of habeas corpus.

Col. James Fitzmaurice, co-pilot, is head of the Irish Free State air force, and was born at Dublin 30 years ago. He served in the British army during the war and was wounded in 1916. He was transferred to the Royal Air Force in 1917 and served with the Army of Occupation. In 1922 he joined the Free State Air Force and commanded the airdrome at Fermoy during the civil war.

Voting in Chicago isn't the safest activity in Illinois, if you ask Senator Deneen. The all-night vigil maintained by Louis L. Emmerson and his wife was rewarded with the news that he had defeated Gov. Len Small for the gubernatorial nomination of Illinois. Emmerson, a Deneen choice, won the Republican favor by an overwhelming margin, a fact which Mrs. Emmerson joyously telephoned friends. Small, the Thompson-Crowe candidate, was up for re-election.

PLAN SHUBERT THEATER

PROPOSED SITE VEILED IN SECRECY

A new Shubert theater, the site for which is veiled in secrecy, will be erected in downtown Pittsburgh. It will seat 3,000 and will be completed by next fall, according to reports. John B. Reynolds, manager for Shuberts here, admitted a new theater was to be built, but was silent as to its location.

Possible sites discussed by real estate men have included the southeast corner of Liberty avenue and Sixth street and the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Ninth street.

The Shuberts hold a long-term lease on the Alvin Theater and own the Pitt Theater building.

4 MONONGAHELA CLUBS HIT

Four Monongahela clubs, including the Owls and Eagles, were raided last night by Federal prohibition agents. The largest seizures were reported in the Eagles Club in Chess street, five barrels of beer, 200 gallons of mash, a 50-gallon container and a 500-gallon steel tank. The two containers, apparently constructed to hold beer, were empty.

Six cases of home brew, 24 pints to each case, were discovered in the Owls Club, the agents said. Ernest Reukens was arrested at the Owls Club and Charles Prichard was taken into custody at the Eagles lodge.

The Italian Citizens Club, West Main street, and a combination saloon and club in East Main street were the two other Monongahela places raided.

Albert Vennucci was arrested at the Italian club and Leon Voelker and his son, William Voelker, were arrested in the other raid.

Beer was found in the two places, according to the agents. A small amount of the beverage was taken for samples and the rest was destroyed.

OFFICER STOPS RUNAWAY

Patrolman Francis McKenna of East Pittsburgh, stopped a team of runaway horses yesterday after pedestrians in Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh had been endangered by the horses in their mad run of two blocks.

The policeman, seeing the horses bolt suddenly, leaped onto the heavy wagon drawn by the team, and grasped the reins and finally brought the horses to a stop. Noise of passing traffic is said to have frightened the team.

Who Said Quality Butter?

We'll admit it—we did—DONAHOE'S

Who Said "PERFECT" Butter

It is very interesting to learn that another store in Pittsburgh which for many years, has been advertising "Perfect" butter now admits to selling "92 score" and claims to sell "93 score" when available.

The U. S. Government Standard rating for butter scoring sets "100" points as the high total score in rating butter—something never achieved.

Who Said "Perfect" Butter?

Once Upon A Time A Store Sold Butter

IT was a modest, shrinking-violet type of store—it was "the business that butter built"—yet the most important TRUTH in its business was "born to blush unseen." It sold butter—PERFECT butter—or so the claim.

PERFECT, of course, means 100%—and the butter this store sold was—according to their own statement, now published—"92" score, sometimes "93" score. It hasn't been necessary—through all these years—to mention such a trifle, because "Perfect" implies and means a mere 7 or 8 points more than they actually had, and so, naturally, the scoring certificates "several feet high" were NOT KEPT or ever published. This was quite in line with that store's policy of only publishing such relevant and tremendously interesting facts as "If you used an egg a minute, twenty-four hours a day, three hundred sixty-five days a year—it would take over nine years to use the eggs sold at ———— in the last three months," or, perhaps, it was something like this "the frankfurters sold during 1927—if laid end to end over terra firma and the wild sea waves would reach from Kalamazoo to Timbuctoo." We're not sure about the exactness of these quotations—our memory falters before the impressive figures.

Claiming and PROVING are two different things, so when DONAHOE'S PROVED their butter to actually be "93 score," the store-that-once-upon-a-time-sold-butter jumped to conclusions and read into our advertisement things that were not stated. Perhaps it was selling a little less butter than it had before; perhaps . . .

At any rate, the shrinking violet became a flaming flower of deepest red. It flaunted its ancient banner and rushed into print to say that "93 score" butter had been received for the first time by another store "(meaning DONAHOE'S)"—misstatement number one. DONAHOE'S KEEP their scoring certificates—more than one—and they are ON FILE here!

Misstatement number two "The enormous volume . . . makes our business so desirable that we have first chance at quality butter in Chicago." Since when is the business of a firm rated in Dun's at "1" more desirable than a firm rated at "AAA1"—especially when the latter firm—DONAHOE'S—buys more butter in Chicago and SELLS MORE BUTTER IN PITTSBURGH than does the-store-that-once-upon-a-time-sold-butter.

There are other misstatements—but why enumerate further. And when it comes to freshness—very important but not "most important"—DONAHOE'S receives DAILY shipments of butter out of Chicago—six days a week—EVERY BUSINESS DAY—the-store-that-once-upon-a-time-sold-butter does not.

"Price" does not "invariably indicate low quality." Our tremendous volume of butter business enables us to sell better butter at a little less than a certain other store in Pittsburgh. Take home a pound of DONAHOE'S Fifth Avenue Butter, no matter how low the price, no matter how much UNDER the price of the butter offered by the store-that-once-upon-a-time-sold-PERFECT-butter, you will find DONAHOE'S "93" score butter a butter of superlative quality—than which there is no better.

The BEST Butter in Pittsburgh!

USE AIRPLANES AS "JAG" CURE

The high cost of prohibition is being felt here. In the days of the 12-ounce "schooner" and free lunch, those who partook too freely of the amber fluid generally went home or to a police station to sleep the effects off. They don't do that any more. It isn't swank.

Pilots at Bettis Field, near McKeesport, say the up-to-date way to sleep a "jag" off and bet rid of a hangover is by airplane. A well-known clubman of the city has started the latest fad. When he has had a hard night, out to Bettis Field the clubman goes and charters a plane. Officials of the field say the clubman's trips are quite frequent.

Cleveland and return generally puts the disciple of Bacchus in proper condition. The trip sets the clubman back the paltry sum of $40.

"When he has had a very hard night, a longer trip is taken, generally to St. Louis, and, of course, the cost is a little more," one of the pilots said.

What price hangover.

A Modern Sanitary And Convenient Market—

The Arcade Market, located at 435 Market street, is gaining favor among food product shoppers by reason of its convenient location, only three doors from Pittsburgh's busiest corner, Fifth avenue and Market street, as well as the popular prices prevailing at all times for Meats, Groceries, Butter, Eggs and Cheese. A soda fountain is located at the Graeme street entrance to the store and is provided for the convenience of patrons rather than for profit.

The brand of coffee used by the Biltmore and McAlpin Hotels is sold in Pittsburgh exclusively by the Arcade Market.

Quick, intelligent service is rendered by an ample staff of experienced and courteous salespeople, while Mr. Wm. Vogel, President of Vogel Bros., Inc., gives the business his constant personal attention.—Advertisement.

ARREST 3 IN EAST END RAID

A whisky cutting plant in a garage in rear of 715 North Highland avenue, raided last night by police, netted 15 gallons of liquor and three prisoners. Joseph Friedman, 5916 Nicholson street, Morris Greenberg, 916 Highview street, and Samuel Greenblatt, 533 North Beatty street, were arrested.

HOLDUP MAN GETS 5 YRS.

Airplane Spots "Bandits" After "Holdup"

GARY, Ind., April 12.—(AP.)—Airplanes may soon take part in the capture of bank robbers in Indiana.

A practical demonstration of the value of aviation as an added police protection was given in Lake county yesterday when a sham bank robbery was staged. The "bandits" looted a bank in the regulation manner and escaped by automobile. The usual police alarm was spread, including a message to the Ford Field. Half an hour later, an airplane was soaring over the car, described in the police alarm.

Secretary of State Fred E. Schortemeier, who flew with a police captain and the pilot, said bombs might have been dropped on the car easily.

WATCHMAN KILLED AT ETNA CROSSING

George Fitch, 64, rear of 130 Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg, a watchman at the Butler street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Etna, was killed instantly last night when struck by a passenger train. He suffered a fractured skull. The body was removed to the morgue.

ARMY CRAFT DIVES INTO RIVER

BATON ROUGE, La., April 12.—(AP.)—The projected flight of two Army aviators from Fort Crockett, Tex., to Edgewood Arsenal, Md. ended fatally for both here yesterday when their plane crashed into the Mississippi River from a height of 1,500 feet.

Lieut. Kenneth Boyd and Corp. Pye Koch, mechanic, were killed. Engine trouble is believed to have caused the fatal crash. Boyd was seen by witnesses to jump from the plane when it began its nose-dive, but the leap was too late for the parachute to open, and he crashed to the river bank.

His companion also had a parachute strapped on, but was unable to clear in time and was plunged into the river with the machine. He was picked up by the Standard Oil tug Manchac. Artificial respiration was begun immediately, but attempts to revive him were futile.

COWBOYS FIND BODIES

KENT, Tex., April 12.—(AP.)—The mangled bodies of three men were found yesterday in the wreckage of a cabin type machine, which was discovered by two cowboys on the "X" ranch, six miles south of here, in very sparsely settled country.

The men were identified by letters found on the bodies as F. L. Drew, Ft. Worth, Tex.; D. M. Lawson, deputy United States marshal, Manti, Utah, and Edward G. Knapp, Ypsilanti, Mich., who was piloting the plane.

The three were en route to Ft. Worth from San Diego, Cal., where the plane recently had been taken over from the factory by Knapp.

It is believed the plane crashed about noon Monday. A resident of Kent said he saw the plane pass over Kent at about that time.

From all appearances, the pilot had attempted to land and the tail of the machine, which was crushed flat, struck a creek bank, causing the plane to turn over several times.

NEURITIS ALMOST MADE HER SCREAM

Pittsburgh Lady Also Had Other Ailments; Ten Herbs Gave Blessed Relief.

"I was in a bad condition before I used Ten Herbs," was the statement of Mrs. R. Huch, 1416 Page Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this popular medicine. "I had neuritis in my shoulders, and at times I would almost scream with pain," Mrs. Huch continued. "My liver was lazy, causing dizzy spells, and my kidneys were out of order, as I had pains across my back.

MRS. R. HUCH

"I had to be very careful what I ate, as my food did not digest properly. I would bloat with gas, which would work up around my heart and cause it to palpitate. The gas was worse at night, and at times would cause smothering spells, which, on several occasions, gave me quite a scare. I was also troubled with constipation.

"I know that statements in the papers about Ten Herbs are true, as your medicine has done me a world of good. Those terrible neuritis pains are gone from my shoulders. I enjoy my meals now without fear of awful misery afterwards. I am no longer troubled with gas, bloating, palpitation of heart, or that smothered feeling in my chest. My bowels are regular, and my liver and kidneys seem to be working properly. Dizzy spells and pains across my back have disappeared, and my circulation has improved. I have new strength and ambition, and feel better in every way, so I gladly endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

Many local men and women make similar claims for Ten Herbs. They say it benefits and invigorates the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and has a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on the entire system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

CORBETT "AD" MAN FOR SUN-TELE

James J. Corbett, conqueror of the famous John L. Sullivan, becomes a member of the want ad staff of the Sun-Telegraph tomorrow.

At noon, in the Sun-Tele Want Ad corner, Fifth avenue at Market street, the former heavyweight champion will take want ads, mark them, write them, check them—perform all the functions of a real classified advertising man.

The advertising profession that James J. will adopt for the noon hour tomorrow will be an added distinction to his list of achievements. After becoming heavyweight champion of the world, he next became known as "Gentleman Jim," and transformed the boxing atmosphere from the roughhouse to the mannerly.

Next, as an actor and public speaker, he attained considerable fame, and is playing this week at the Aldine Theater.

Meet Gentleman Jim at the Sun-Tele Want Ad corner tomorrow between noon and 1 o'clock, and he will take the want ads for the big Sunday Sun-Tele classified section.

WORKER DIVES TO HIS DEATH

Rosco Papple, 30, structural iron worker, fell eight stories to his death yesterday. A derrick pole, which he was helping dismantle on a warehouse at Galveston avenue and Reedsdale street, North Side, turned and swept him off his feet.

A fellow workman saved his life by leaping three feet in midair and grasping a hook on another pole. He was rescued by painters who pulled him through a window.

KLAN EX-DRAGON DENIES KILLING

with your present incarceration and since your imprisonment have they done anything to prevent you from proceeding with processes known to the law?

A. Yes. They had everything to do with my imprisonment in this. Not only are they guilty of framing most of the evidence that was used against me at Noblesville in a gigantic school of perjury, but they also poisoned the minds of people in that county by circulating a great deal of inflammatory literature designed to stir up people against me, which was predicated wholly on falsehood and known to be false. In addition to that, they worked through a women's organization and had the women of that organization mingle with the men in Hamilton county, where I was tried and made each man promise them that in the event of their being selected as juror, would return a verdict of murder in the first degree and send me to the electric chair.

These women were very persistent, indeed, and they circulated the hideous story that was proved there and was alleged to have been the dying declaration of a woman named Madge Oberholtzer. I am in a position to prove that a man from Nebraska now employed as an attorney wrote the so-called dying declaration of Madge Overholtzer four or five days or possibly a week after she was a corpse and in her grave. As a matter of fact, everyone knows that no woman living, sick or dying, would attach her name to the hideous, filthy political speech that was introduced in the Hamilton Circuit Court as the dying declaration of Madge Oberholtzer. The tragedy of the whole thing is that introducing this filthy thing attributable to her as a dying declaration did not only send me to prison for life, but it placed the black stamp of inferential shame on the brow of the dead woman. It has been my hope that public opinion would become so aroused over the obvious injustice and obvious irregularity of the whole thing that there would be a widespread demand that I be given my day in court.

Claims Poisoning

In addition to what I have just explained to you, surrounding the trial at Noblesville, I will add this: That Miss Oberholtzer, as far as I know, never went to Hammond on the day the alleged wild party took place in which I was alleged to have participated and none of the facts leading up to the original cause of her death are true. It is my definite, absolute information that she did not die from the cause attributed to her, but from another and a different cause and from the effects of a deadly poison.

This was administered to her by duress and by force at least 15 days after this date they claim that she accompanied me on the trip to Hammond, Ind. I am in a position to prove these facts and in addition to this recite in court if I were permitted to do so. Since that time they have prevented me from raising these facts and additional facts which have come to my knowledge, in the form of a petition for a writ of corram nobis, and now I am relying exclusively upon a verdict from a court of great public opinion based on the constitution of Indiana, which provides that justice shall be free and without prejudice.

Says Jurors Paid

In addition to what I have just stated, during the trial at Noblesville, on cross-examination of prospective jurors, it developed that one of the talesmen said he had been approached by a leader of a woman's organization of the Ku Klux Klan and that the leader of the woman's organization had insisted that in the event he became a juror his vote would be constantly against me. In addition to this I have absolute proof that at least two of the jurors were paid a sum of money in exchange for their verdict of guilty against me. Also I am in possession of definite information that a substantial sum of money was paid a newspaperman who operates a small daily and who wrote inflammatory articles attacking me, all for the purpose of inciting public sentiment against me. Also during the trial and prior to the time the trial was set for hearing, they circulated anonymous literature throughout Hamilton county, and in fact placed some of it in the hands of every citizen of Hamilton county, attacking me and accusing me of things of which I never heard and of which I was never guilty, all of which was done for the purpose of inciting public opinion against me, and during the time of my trial, there are a number of women who have police court reputations in Indianapolis, present in the courtroom at Noblesville. They were supposed to be the moral influence that would sustain the jury and the court from setting aside the law and sending me to prison.

Threatened

When the change of venue was taken from Marion to Hamilton county, the clerk failed to sign the transcript. In the state of Indiana it has been the law for at least 100 years that one court can speak to another only by its record, and that its record becomes a record only when it is duly signed, sealed and otherwise duly authenticated and at no time during the last 100 years has it been possible in the state of Indiana for one court to speak to another by an anonymous record—that is to say when unsigned, unsealed and unauthenticated—in short an anonymous communication. Yet such was the alleged vehicle used for the change of venue, in my case from Marion county to Hamilton county. I did not take the stand to testify in the Noblesville trial for the reason that I was repeatedly informed by an anonymous letter, by telephone calls to the sheriff, and by persons calling on me directly, that in the event I did testify I would be killed in the witness chair. I would be killed immediately after I left the courtroom and before I could return to the Hamilton county jail or elsewhere. It was very fresh in my memory at this time that they had, pursuant to a previous plan, brutally murdered Capt. William S. Coburn, or had caused the murder of Capt. Coburn and because of my knowledge that they followed a guild of "take no prisoners," but ruthlessly and brutally killed those who opposed them, I yielded to the duress of threats and I did not take the witness stand in my own behalf.

There are a number of other features incident to the Hamilton county trial which I refrain from mentioning here because I believe it is inexpedient to do so in view of the fact I contemplate using them in processes known to the law to obtain a new trial; that is to say, if I am ever permitted to proceed with processes known to the law with attorneys of my own selection.

Q.—Mr. Stephenson, do you personally know what kind of men are in the present management of the klan?

A.—Yes, sir, I do. Uniformly mediocre. I never did meet a man connected with the official activity of the klan who was brought into the organization recently who would rate in moral caliber above that of a village constable, and intellectually with the average eighth grade school pupil. They are wholly without conviction, wholly without any conception of the thing they are handling. They are uniformly men who obviously regard it as a part of their duties not to meet the arguments of opposition, but instead to find some means of disgracing those who oppose them. For example

Plane Is Used to Catch Auto Thieves

MELBOURNE, Australia.—An airplane was used for the first time by Australian police to effect the dramatic capture of a band of four criminals escaping across the Queensland border.

The four men had been stealing food and petrol from residents at Camooweal, Queensland, for weeks, storing it in the bed of a dried-up creek. They then stole the best motorcar in the district and set off on a dramatic dash for the border of the Northern Territory and safety.

The residents, realizing that a road chase of the criminals was hopeless, chartered an airplane from Cloncurry and caught up with the thieves.

TAKE EL TOWER 'OWNER'S' BAIL

TITLE IN WIFE'S NAME, CHARGE; NOT IN COURT

Latoof Naffah, registered as the owner of El Tower Apartment Hotel at the time of his prosecution, failed to appear in Criminal Court yesterday when a charge of false pretense against him was called for trial.

His bond of $1,000, filed by Z. E. Hallow, was ordered forfeited and a process was ordered issued for the defendant by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen.

The prosecutor was Joseph M. Jones of 1201 Buena Vista street, North Side, who alleged that Naffah represented on July 29, 1925, that he was the owner of the Tower Apartment Hotel and that as a result Jones executed in writing an agreement to provide labor and materials for construction work. Jones alleged that Mrs. Naffah was the actual holder of title to the property and that the representations were false and fraudulent.

The defendant's address was given as 5669 Munhall road. He was held for court January 22, by Alderman Thomas A. Flanigan.

EX-CHIEF RIPS KLAN MASK

ple, one lawyer who poses as a political adviser of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was born in Nebraska and grew to manhood there; that is to say, not to manhood but to maturity. He has never yet attained the standard that would justify one in attaching to him the term manhood. I am reliably informed that he has been disbarred in Nebraska for malpractice as an attorney. I am also reliably informed that there are a number of warrants awaiting him in Nebraska for various crimes, including malpractice as an attorney, embezzlement of funds intrusted to him by clients, and other equally disreputable things. Also I am reliably informed there are a number of warrants pending against him in the state of Texas, some of which are for embezzlement of funds of his clients.

Liquor Intriguer

Another one of the characters was a man who in 1924, a year after I had severed all connections with the klan, came to Indianapolis, and stopped at the Severn Hotel, called me to his room. I refused to go, but sent one of my employes, and he made this proposition: "That if your chief (referring in that instance to me) will work out some arrangement to keep the authorities from interfering with liquor transportation across the state of Indiana en route from Detroit to Chicago, or Cincinnati to Chicago, or Louisville to Chicago, I will guarantee to keep the federal authorities from interfering with the same activities, and thereby both of us will be in a position to collect enormous sums of money as attorneys for men interested in transporting liquor over this territory."

I very promptly and very emphatically sent word through my employe that I would have nothing whatever to do with anything that he was identified with, and that all my sympathy was with the forces of law and order; that I was honestly opposed to the Volstead law, but that I believed that every law should be enforced while it was on the statute books and I certainly would not be made a party to an intrigue designed to break that law by conspiracy.

Another one of the characters was a man who had charge of the state of Illinois, prior to the time that Mr. Palmer took charge of it, who has been heretofore mentioned in my testimony. There was nothing in the category of crime that he would not d It was his habit to employ young girls. He had no vision except that of dominance by violence, and by threat and by frightfulness. He had no more knowledge of the spiritual philosophy of the klan or the noble purpose to which the members had dedicated themselves, than a child would have had. He would compare intellectually with a low average worker.

Police Record

Another instance of one of the selections was a man in Wisconsin—perhaps it would be better to go to Milwaukee and get his record. There is nothing in the category of crime that he would not do and very little that he has not done. His police record is voluminous.

Another instance is a man from Indianapolis, Ind., now shown by civil action in the courts to have taken advantage of his position with the klan and embezzled an enormous sum of money which he had extracted from widows and orphans and poor working people who are not in a position to lose it on the pretext of organizing some kind of a finance or building and loan company. This was granted in a court of record as being absolute fraud. He evaded prosecution only because of the condition prevailing in the prosecutor's ofce in Marion county, Indiana.

Another member of the staff floats under the banner of "Judge." He acquired the title of "Judge" as a result of having served as appointed justice of the peace out West for a period of approximately three months. Thereafter he delighted in having himself known as "Judge." Prior to becoming justice of the peace, he was admitted to the bar with the greatest difeulty and until this day there are some decided protests against his becoming a member of the bar. His origin is unknown, his parentage is unknown. His entire life prior to his arrival in Little Rock, Ark., is unknown. He had a financial arrangement in the ownership of the women's Ku Klu Klan which is absolute, and no one so far as I know has ever been permitted to inquire into the financial arrangement or to produce the books in open court; nor have the members anywhere in America been permitted ever to audit the books for the purpose of determining the disbursement of moneys collected in the name of 100 per cent Americanism, in the name of Protestant Christianity and the name of Militant Patriotism.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from May Drug Co., or any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

GETS AWAY QUICKER AND GOES FASTER THAN ANY CAR UNDER $1000 ^ ^ ^ STAUNCH AND DEPENDABLE

Flashing suddenly into the American market, the Dodge Standard Six has swept instantly forward to spectacular success . . . . . Not alone because it is the fastest Six in the world selling below $1000, but also because it possesses more style, luxury and roominess.

And because it is Dodge-staunch and Dodge-dependable; built to carry one horsepower for every 47 pounds of car weight! A fact that explains its amazing speed, pick-up and power on the hills.

Drive this remarkable car today and you will understand why its performance is the talk of the country.

Bedell
FIFTH AVENUE NEAR WOOD

Lifts the Curtain Tomorrow on a Great Merchandising Event!

FOR YEARS—for thirty-five years—the Bedell organization has been growing. Today it is the largest Women's Specialty Shop organization in the country—nineteen Bedell stores extend from coast to coast. If these nineteen stores were placed one over the other, then it would make the largest building in the world — a skyscraper ninety-five stories high. Think of ninety-five floors devoted to the selling of women's coats, dresses, suits, lingerie, millinery and shoes!

This skyscraper would house more dresses and coats than all the women in any city buy in a year's time.

This dominant organization — the Fashion Leader in feminine styles—is planning the largest and the greatest week in its thirty-five years of Service.

During the week of April 14th to 21st—NATIONAL BEDELL WEEK OF SALES—both the Miss and Matron in the nineteen "BEDELL" cities will find NEW SPRING STYLES unsurpassed not only in QUALITY but also in VALUE.

Women will find the Bedell Stores laden, from top to bottom, with the smartest in new dresses, coats, suits, lingerie, shoes and millinery that could be bought from the style marts in this country or abroad. For the Bedell organization has combined all of its vast resources to make the 1928 NATIONAL BEDELL WEEK OF SALES surpass its supremacy of other years.

ELECTION LAWS FAVORED BY CANDIDATES

Favorable responses are being received from candidates for the Legislature to questions asked by the Allegheny County Elections Association concerning their attitude toward better election laws, Francis S. Guthrie, secretary, said. The questions asked follow:

Will you vote against every effort to weaken the present election laws?

Will you vote for proper enabling legislation to put the voting machine amendment into effect, if the amendment is adopted at the November election?

Will you vote for a bill requiring all ballots to be brought to the county seat for safekeeping immediately after each primary election?

Will you assist in the passage of new legislation which tends to improve the election laws of this State?

"At this date responses have been received from one-half of the candidates who, with one exception, are recorded as favorable to remedial legislation and the voting machine. The notable exception is Edward B. Goehring, Republican candidate from the Fourth Legislative District. His response was 'No' to each question except No. 1," commented Mr. Guthrie.

BOYS' WORKERS MEET TODAY

Magistrate A. D. Brandon of Morals Court will be the principal speaker at a luncheon today in the William Penn Hotel for the workers in the Boys' Club building fund campaign. Magistrate Brandon will tell the workers how effective the Boys' Club has been in combating juvenile crime in the "Strip" and adjacent sections. In a recent statement he pointed out that there has been a 50 per cent reduction in juvenile delinquency since the Boys' Club was organized five years ago.

The luncheon will give 200 workers their first opportunity to report how far they have advanced toward the $250,000 goal which has been set for the campaign.

NOON BIBLE CLASS WILL HOLD 16TH ANNIVERSARY

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

When Women Get "That Kruschen Feeling"

All Over the City Women Are Adopting the Kruschen Habit.

It Means Healthy Life And Appealing Vivacity

The six vitalizing salts that Nature demands, if vigorous health is to be yours, are all found in Kruschen Salts.

Since these health building salts have come to this city hundreds of women, eager for something that is sure to bring to them that spirited vivacity that lifts them out of the commonplace, have kept our pharmacists busy supplying the demand.

It's all so simple; this worthy habit of internal cleanliness that has turned many a listless, languid woman into an alert, keen-minded, bright-eyed model of physical charm.

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive personality that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses. Every morning drop into your cup of breakfast coffee two tablets of Kruschen Salts—it's tasteless that way.

Be sure and do this every morning for—"It's the little daily dose that does it"—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin and cheerful vivacity. 60 Tablets—60 cents (30 days treatment) at druggists' the world over.

McCulloch Drug Stores sell lots of them.

BIBLE SCHOOL HERE GIVEN FARM

EVOLUTIONISM IS BARRED BY DEED

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., April 12.—On condition that fundamentalist doctrines be adhered to, including the Genesis account of man's creation as against the evolutionary theory, a 245-acre farm, underlaid with coal and valued at $50,000, in Belmont county, has been deeded to the Pittsburgh School of the Bible, Allendale street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Donors named are Mr. and Mrs. William T. Warnock, Miss Ella Warnock, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Warnock, Miss Edith J. Warnock and Mr. and Mrs. William MacEwing, most of whom reside in Pittsburgh.

The property is conveyed to the Rev. Charles Embrey, trustee, of 820 Kambach street, Pittsburgh, director of the school.

The deed provides that should control of the school be secured by those who permit teaching of doctrines contrary to those set forth in the document, the title of the property shall revert to the grantors or their heirs.

The Rev. Embrey said the Pittsburgh School for the Bible, nonsectarian, had been in existence a year and was established along lines of the Moody Institute, Chicago, for the benefit of young people of limited means who wished to prepare for the ministry or special form of Christian work. Mr. Embrey formerly was pastor of the Mt. Washington Baptist Church.

WHIPPET NOW LOWEST SIX IN PRICE

TOLEDO, O., April 12.—Prices on the new Whippet Six, the lowest ever reached by any manufacturer of six-cylinder motor cars, were announced here last night by John N. Willys, president Willys-Overland.

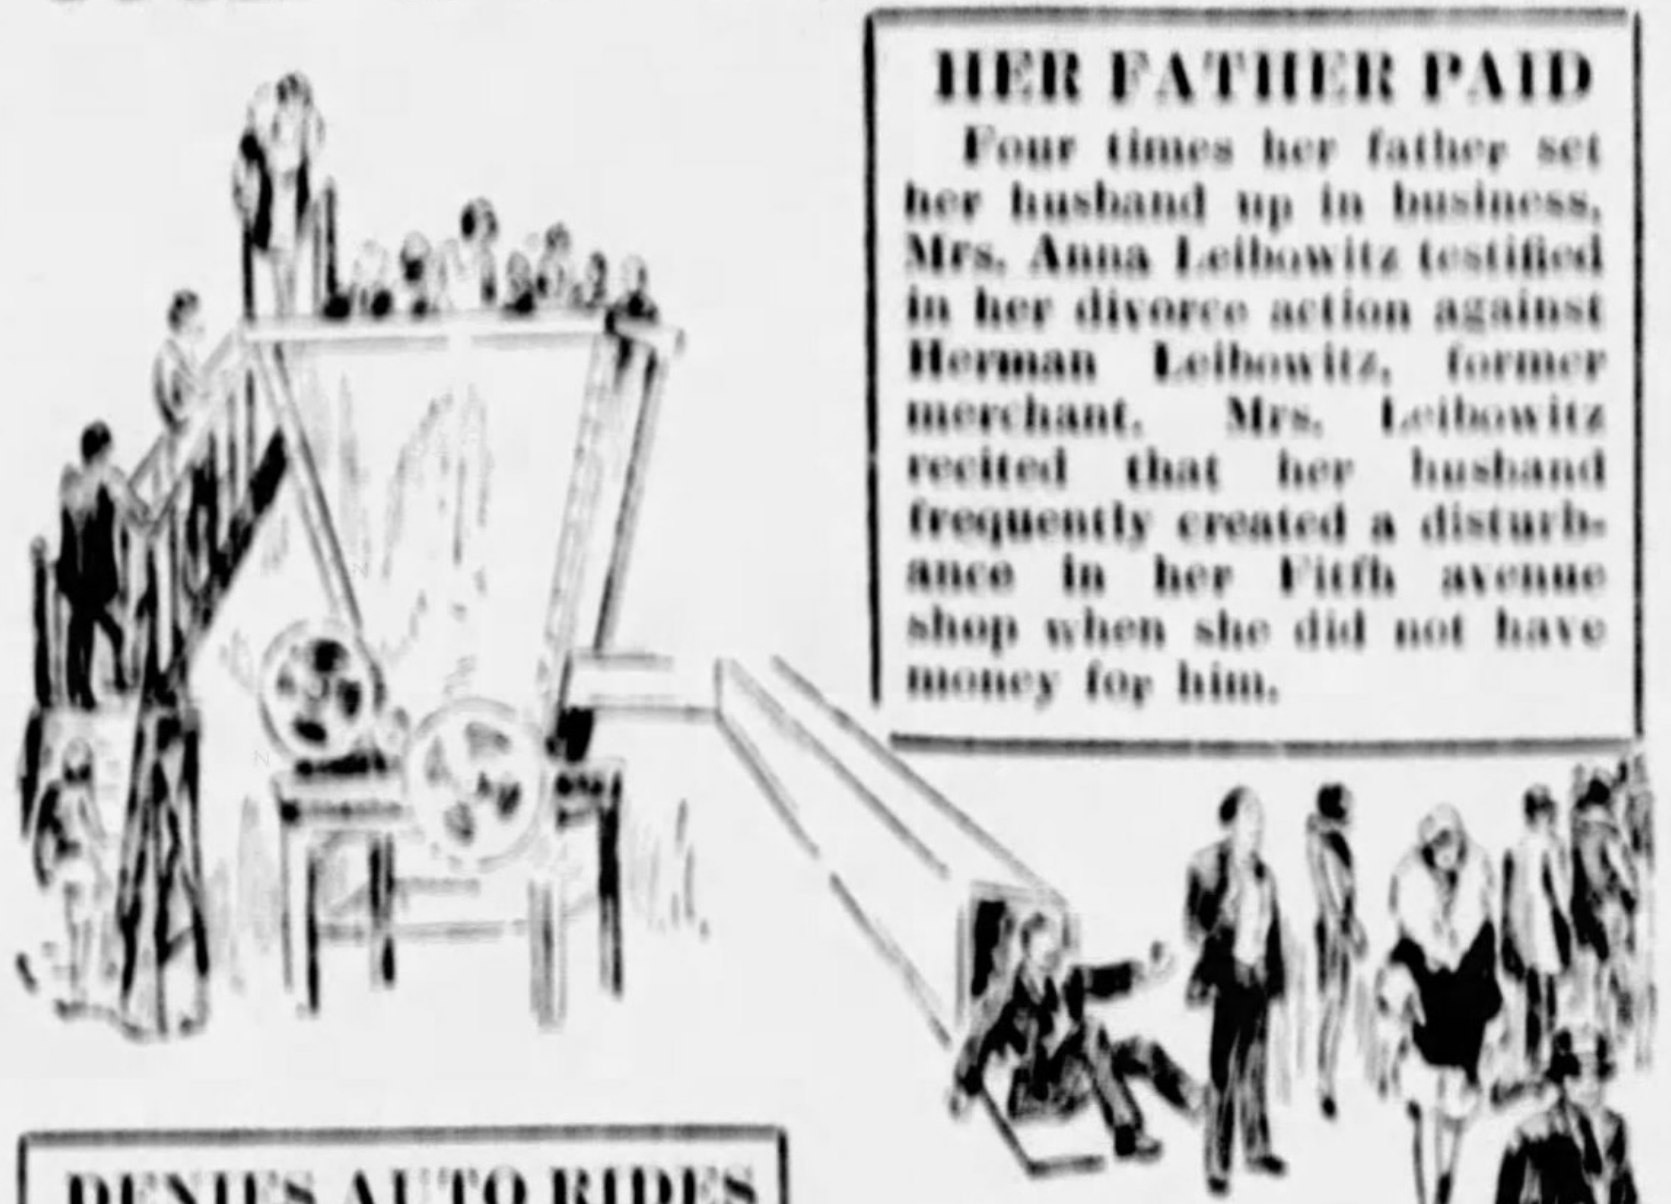
The five-passenger coach will sell for $695, bringing this model $50 below that of the next nearest low-priced six. Other models include a coupe at $695, a four-door sedan at $745, a touring at $615 and roadster at $695. All prices are below those of any light six of equivalent body type.

Mr. Willys said the power plant of the new Whippet Six is equipped with a seven-bearing crankshaft, being the first low-priced six to incorporate this advanced feature.

This latest move follows closely upon the recent price cut on the four-cylinder Whippet and the Willys-Knight standard six price cut announced a few days ago. The Whippet Four reduction has placed that car in direct price competition with the new Ford models, bringing production up to an average of 1,100 daily.

The new Whippet Six is looked upon as a strong bid by Willys-Overland for quantity production in the light six division.

THE DIVORCE MILL



HER FATHER PAID

Four times her father set her husband up in business, Mrs. Anna Leibowitz testified in her divorce action against Herman Leibowitz, former merchant. Mrs. Leibowitz recited that her husband frequently created a disturbance in her Fifth avenue shop when she did not have money for him.

DENIES AUTO RIDES

In an answer to the divorce suit filed by John F. Schultz, Mrs. Alice Schultz, late of 4828 Blair street, denied his allegations that she had gone to picnics and dances and on auto rides with another man. She was forced to leave her husband, the wife testified, because he abused her, and she went to Toledo and assumed a fictitious name because she feared he would follow her. In their married life, the wife sets forth, Schultz always went to his father when they quarreled.

Cuticura Heals Water Blisters On Chest And Neck

"I broke out in little water blisters which, when they broke, spread all over my neck and chest. The breaking out itched and burned and caused me to scratch, and when my clothing touched it, it would nearly drive me wild. When I was where it was hot I could not stand it.

"I tried different remedies but they did not seem to relieve me. I was told to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The burning and itching started going out of my skin, and after I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. E. D. Haight, Box 104, Elsmere, N. Y., Oct. 2, 1927.

Make Cuticura Soap and Ointment your every-day toilet preparations and have a clear, sweet skin, soft, smooth hands, and a healthy scalp with good hair. Cuticura Talcum is unexcelled in purity.

ICE PERILS TOWN

GROWING JAM BACKS UP WATER

CARIBOU, Maine, April 12—(AP.)—An ice jam, three miles long and still growing despite the efforts of men and dynamite filled the Aroostook River above the Caribou Dam today, threatening heavy damage to two railroads as well as the light and water supply of this town.

Half a mile of the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks lay submerged under water backed up by the jam. The rails of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad were free of water, but fear was expressed that they would be buried under tons of ice when the jam lets go.

A Canadian Pacific dynamite crew of 12 men had used two tons of explosive up to last night in unsuccessful attempts to start the ice down river, while eight men were patrolling the B. & A. right of way.

The work of the dynamiters 500 feet upstream has caused trouble in the power house of the Caribou Water, Light and Power Company, where refuse loosened by the explosions has seeped into racks and pumps.

Nobody Loves a Skinny Woman!

Gain pounds of weight and strength in 3 weeks with new YEAST and IRON—or pay nothing

Get a Lovely Skin for an Ugly One

"Gained 20 Pounds!"

"When I started taking Ironized Yeast a month ago I weighed only 90 pounds and I could hardly drag myself around. Today I weigh 110 pounds and I feel fine. Best of luck to Ironized Yeast, say I."—Mrs. C. S., Hattiesburg, Miss.

Folks are amazed at Ironized Yeast. They see 5 to 15 pounds gained in 3 weeks! Skinny limbs covered with rounded, graceful flesh! Ugly hollows in shoulders filled up! Eyes sparkling with health. They ask—how does Ironized Yeast work so quickly?

How Ironized Yeast Builds Quick Flesh and Health

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form Iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

If you are underweight, nervous or tired, you need Ironized Yeast. Start it today. It does not cause gas or bloating. Safe for everybody—containing no harmful drugs. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle.

Try It on "Money Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If not delighted, get your money back. If inconvenient to buy from the druggist, send $1.00 direct to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 419-A.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.—©I. Will Says Irish Jaunting Cars Beat Fords

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—See where Henry Ford wouldn't visit Ireland till they took their tariff off something or other that ought to keep about everybody from visiting this country. I think Uncle Henry has a though time competing with these jaunting cars in Ireland. And he can make a billion cars, but he will never make as good ones as those little donkeys. No overhauling no tire trouble, no carburetor adjustment, no insurance, no depreciation, no upkeep, and they can carry more and pull more than any Ford ever built. In fact those donkeys is where Ford got his idea of his car viva Ireland. Yours,

No one is safe!

Housewife, society leader, doctor, aviator—every one of us, no matter who we are, may offend unknowingly.

Intimate facts about body odor

THERE'S no hiding body odor. The faintest hint of it is sure to betray us—and prejudice people against us.

You know yourself what a poor opinion you have of any one who offends. But do you realize that not one of us is safe from body odor?

To live, we must perspire. Even on cool days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

We may feel safe*—and yet

This body moisture, whether we see it or not, is always odorous. And there's no escaping it. Every one of us—from laborer to society leader—may offend unless we take precautions.

Pores give off as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours—even on cool days . . .

Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its bland antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor .

Nor can we tell when we are guilty. For, once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it—though it remains perfectly apparent to others.

So easy to end body odor now

Not by covering it up but by removing the cause. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same bland and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores. Keeps complexions so fresh and clear, too. Little wonder millions favor Lifebuoy for all toilet purposes.

Note its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Standing makes back and legs ache

How ¾ of the workers in the Straus Silk Mills relieve tired muscles

"... It's as good a job as any mill worker could ask—nice people to work with, good pay, fair conditions—but a factory job anywhere is bound to be hard work."

ONLY the mill workers themselves know how legs and feet can ache and how lame backs can be after a long day walking up and down a spinning frame.

Something they must have to take the ache out—to relieve the stiffness and fatigue which might otherwise make it necessary for them to miss many a day's work.

The workers in the Straus Silk Mills in Trenton are a particularly fresh, wholesome-looking lot of women. And so we asked them what they do to prevent aching and strain from standing at a spinning frame all day.

From three-quarters of them came promptly the answer, "I never use anything but Sloan's."

Everywhere the leading remedy for muscular pain

Everywhere you go you hear the same story from people whose work brings a strain on their muscles.

Read the experience of this New York woman—

"I had such a backache I didn't know what to do. I used Sloan's Liniment, and in half an hour I was better. Now, when anyone has a pain, I say, 'Use Sloan's.'"

Another woman writes—

"The pain in my back was like a knife stab and it left me helpless. Sloan's Liniment was given me to ease the pain and I am now able to do all my own work."

Sloan's Liniment is scientific—absolutely reliable because it works by the quickest, surest method known to relieve pain. It stirs up the circulation—brings new blood right to the spot where the pain is, sweeps away the cause of the trouble.

You can get it in any drug store. A bottle that will last you a long time for 35 cents. Use it for—

Rheumatism Lame muscles
Sciatica Stiff neck
Lumbago Colds and Neuralgia congestions
Sprains and bruises

A company doctor who cares for hundreds of workers every year says: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

One of the workers in the Straus Silk Mills. ¾ of these workers said that after a long day on their feet they find Sloan's their best help for tired backs and legs

MAYOR "BIG BILL" MAY QUIT TO GO TO SENATE

OHIO GIRL'S MURDER TRIAL SET FOR MAY 7

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., April 12.—Trial of William D. Herron, confessed slayer of his sister-in-law, Viola May, was set tentatively for May 7 in court. Empaneling of jurors is taken to indicate the case will be tried in this county.

OBSERVERS SEE SELECTION TO SMITH SEAT

International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Almost complete returns from Tuesday's Republican primary today reveal the decisiveness of the Deneen faction victory over the once powerful Small-Thompson-Crowe combine. The latter suffered one of the most crushing defeats ever inflicted upon a political faction.

What reaction the primary result will have on the present local and state administrations is the subject of much conjecture. Rival candidates and newspapers are trying to goad Mayor William Hale Thompson, "field marshal" of the routed forces, into resigning.

Several days ago Mayor Thompson was quoted as saying that if "Bob" Crowe were defeated, he (the Mayor) would resign. In a brief editorial, a newspaper hostile to the administration reminded the mayor of "his promise," closing the editorial with the line: "Crowe has been defeated."

MAY GO TO SENATE

Mayor Thompson, however, in his first public appearance since the election, declared that he had no intention of resigning.

Several political observers have expressed the belief that Mayor Thompson will step out of office and that Gov. Small will appoint him to the Senate to fill the place refused by that body to Frank L. Smith. This report has been denied by men close to the Mayor.

With only 388 precincts missing out of the state's 6,624, Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson had a plurality of 408,881 over Gov. Len Small for the Republican nomination for governor.

The triumphant faction, controlled by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, nominated its entire state ticket, down to the smallest office, by overwhelming pluralities.

In Cook county (Chicago), Deneen appears to have lost one post by a shade and to have won another by the same margin. The doubtful offices are those of sheriff and coroner.

The powerful political machine of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, one of the leaders of the defeated "America First" faction, was ground to bits by the Deneen juggernaut. Judge John A. Swanson defeated Crowe for the state's attorney nomination by approximately 200,000 votes.

State interest centered in the race for governor and United States senator. Emmerson's victory exceeded the hopes of his most optimistic friends.

United States Senator-Designate Frank L. Smith lost his nomination for a Senate seat to Ottis F. Glenn, a Murphysboro lawyer, who entered the campaign at the last moment practically unknown to the northern part of the state. His majority over Smith will exceed 225,000.

State Senator John Dailey of Peoria, seeking the nomination for attorney general, took the worst beating of any Small-Thompson-Crowe man. Oscar F. Carlstrom, incumbent, won the nomination with a plurality of 500,000 votes.

Sold Only in New Bottles

WE have discontinued taking back empty bottles because:

In many sections of this country these bottles have been used for purposes that make them unfit for Clicquot Club Beverages.

So much care is exercised in the making of this ginger ale that is AGED 6 MONTHS that the Clicquot Club Company dare not take even a remote chance of having the quality of this beverage impaired by used bottles.

When you drink Clicquot Club, you may be sure that you are drinking ginger ale of the utmost richness, mellowness and purity out of a clean, new bottle.

"I am so happy that the last pimple is gone—"

WITHOUT this handicap, there returns the very natural confidence, joy and cherished pride of possessing a clear skin.

Men and women both justly covet admiration, and you can expect such satisfaction only if you are happy in a clear unblemished skin.

The sure way to reach this state is through the blood.

Red blood cells are Nature's elements for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S. S. S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

WAR ON "BLIND" AUTOMOBILES

WASHINGTON'S WINTER WHEAT CROP FAILURE

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 12—Washington county's winter wheat crop is a failure. Wheat fields will be plowed and planted in oats. Lack of snow to cover the growing grain is responsible. Fourteen thousand acres were planted last fall.

TOT PLAYING IN TUB SCALDED BY WATER

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 12—Robert Thompson, 2, son of James D. Thompson, Locust and Leonard streets, was scalded on the body yesterday when he crawled into a bathtub in his home and turned on the hot water. He will recover.

WILKINSBURGER GETS WASHINGTON BANK JOB

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 12—Ernest M. Furbee, of Wilkinsburg, national bank examiner, has been named assistant cashier of the Citizens National Bank of Washington. He succeeds John F. McClay, advanced to cashier.

POLICE NET FOR ONE-LIGHT CARS

War was declared today on motorists driving at night with only one headlight. Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh in a general order to every police inspector instructed them to begin the crusade tonight. More than 200 traffic patrolmen will participate in the crusade.

No excuses are to be taken, the Superintendent said. The driver of a machine having only one headlight illuminated or those operating a car not having a tail light burning will be arrested, he declared.

No tag will be issued offenders. The offenders will be placed in cells if they cannot produce $50 forfeit. The minimum fine is $10.

The order is the most drastic made on motorists by the police department.

"Many accidents can be avoided by having proper lights," Supt. Walsh said. "With so many service stations now, a motorist has no excuse for driving his machine without front and rear lights properly functioning."

"Joy of Living"

FULL of the "Joy of Living", are healthy little girls and boys. Clear-eyed, rosy-cheeked. Happy! And Heinz Rice Flakes are the kind of food that keeps them so.

First of all, this delicate new cereal tastes so good. Crispy; crunchy; like golden-brown nutmeats.

But it's "so good" for another reason, too! For Heinz Rice Flakes are naturally "laxatized" by an entirely new process in cereal-making. This process was developed and is owned exclusively by Heinz. It so utilizes the natural roughage of the rice itself as to impart to the flakes the qualities of a mild, natural laxative.

The whole family will respond to the new taste-thrill of Heinz Rice Flakes. And Heinz Rice Flakes will respond to the needs of the whole family by helping Nature to keep them in the pink of health—full of the "Joy of Living".

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Barry Lupino Gets Laughs, But Hunting For Old Books Is Much More Fun, He Says

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

PERHAPS you have seen Barry Lupino on the stage of the Alvin, tumbling about in ridiculous fashion, falling backward over his cloak, getting his spurs interlocked or sitting down on one of them, dancing and vaulting in a way only the acrobats of the Arabs and Japs can equal. Perhaps you have heard his fine diction, which is as correct and dignified as his lines are absurd and comical. Barry Lupino is the best thing about "The Love Call."

GEORGE SEIBEL

But you've not seen Barry Lupino wander into a second-hand bookshop and dig among the dust for literary treasures. The first thing he does when he gets into any town is to locate the old bookshops. He has only 5,000 books on the history of the stage in his collection, and is convinced he can't get along with such a scanty supply.

I caught him looking at a volume of plays by Massinger and Ford. "Believe I can do without that," he said; "I have three copies of each already. Yes, I'm interested in those two old coves. You see, they were boys when Shakespeare was boss of the Globe Theater. And both of them died just a few years before my family came to England—from Italy, in 1647.

"The Lupinos came to Bartholomew Fair, bringing a puppet show and marionettes. They liked England better than Italy—and they stayed. For nearly 300 years they have been entertainers of every sort. There have been harlequins and clowns, acrobats and jugglers, dancers and ventriloquists, in pantomimes and circuses, strolling from village to village with performing bears or the only mermaid in captivity. They've sold pills at street corners on Cheapside; they've swallowed knives and cannon balls; they've made 10 generations laugh and wonder—and now, degenerate scion of those royal jesters and masters of mysterious arts, I'm buying First Folios of Ben Jonson or Beaumont and Fletcher."

Barry Lupino first visited America when he was eight years old. He wasn't buying old books at that time, but his father had already started to collect them. He has been adding to his father's accumulations year after year—and has also been absorbing the contents of the books he has bought. There is no better read man on the stage than Barry Lupino—there's a lot in that head he bumps on the floor and against the scenery so recklessly in his performance as Lord Pargester.

"Doesn't it interfere with your work?" I asked him. "After reading those heavy and tragic Elizabethan authors, don't you get into the dumps when you should be bubbling over with fun?"

"Quite the contrary," he answered. "When I whirl and tumble around the stage, do my eccentric dances and twiddle my monocle, that makes me dismal and sour. I need relaxation and cheer. So I take a play of John Ford's, perhaps for a change!"

He handed me the fat volume. "Now here's one—the title can't be read aloud in polite society; in the last act the hero comes in with the bloody heart of the woman he loved, stuck on a dagger. Then everybody stabs everybody else till the stage is splashed with gore. There are just enough actors left to carry the victims off. After reading this pleasant and breezy bit of literature, my jollity and good spirits are restored. Yes, there's something in homeopathy!"

Here Ye Olde Booke Man brought a dusty and rusty edition of Victor Hugo's plays—and Barry Lupino the bookworm reached for it with both hands.

Miss Stanley, popular songstress, is featured in "A Night in Spain," revue from the New York Winter Garden, booked for the Alvin next week.

MYSTERY PLAY IN BILLS

In the Pitt next week the George Sharp Players will present "The Clutching Claw," a mystery thriller. Ralph Morgan, leading man, originated the role in which he will appear when "The Clutching Claw" was presented in New York.

"A Night in Spain," which comes to the Alvin next Monday night for a week's stay, is a revue in two acts and 32 scenes. The music is by Jean Schwartz, lyrics by Al Byran, book by Harold Atteridge. Seats are on sale today.

"Wings," which begins a second week in the Nixon Monday, depicts in realistic scenes the heroism of American aviators in the World War. The picture was filmed with the active co-operation and assistance of the War Department. It is said 120 airplanes were used in the making of the St. Mihiel battle scenes.

Next week the Davis will feature Moss and Fontana, society ballroom dancers. The screen attraction is to be Richard Arlen in "Under the Tonto Rim."

Mary Philbin, in "Surrender," comes to the screen of the Aldine next week. Buck and Bubbles, Negro stars, head-line the vaudeville bill.

Lon Chaney, in "The Big City," will be on the Penn screen next week. In the cast are Betty Compson and James Murray. The stage show is titled "Hey Hey," with Jack Powell featured.

The Cansinos, Spanish dancers, will head the stage presentation, "In Grenada," in the Stanley next week. On the screen will be "Dressed to Kill," featuring Edmund Lowe.

"Speedy," Harold Lloyd's latest comedy, will remain at the Grand for a second week, beginning April 16.

The Record Boys, radio entertainers, and Ada Brown, singer, will divide headline honors in the Harris next week. The screen presentation will be Bryant Washburn in "Skinner's Big Idea."

"Speed Girls" will be the burlesque next week at the Academy. The company is headed by Ray Read and Nellie Nice. There will be a midnight show Sunday.

Barney Oldfield, old-time speed king, is featured in "The First Auto," scheduled for the Olympic screen next week.

Roscoe Ails, with Shirley Dahl and a jazz band, is the featured vaudeville attraction in the Sheridan Square Theater the last three days of this week.

City's "Finest" Steer Clear of Carpet

It was a dull day for the police trial board yesterday. For the first time in many months, not an officer had been called on the "carpet" for infraction of police regulations.

Superintendent Walsh explained that during the past week, none of his charges had strayed from the path of grace.

Routine business was discussed. The inspectors departed and a 100 per cent department was chalked up for the "coppers."

GERMAN PLANE EXPECTED IN AFTERNOON

BALDONNEL, April 12.—(AP.)—Allowing 40 hours' flying time between Baldonnel and New York, the Bremen with its German-Irish trio of occupants should circle Mitchel Field some time early Friday afternoon, it was estimated here today.

Flying will be comparatively slow, due to the heavy load of fuel and the trio of occupants, and there is approximately 3,000 miles of distance to be covered, 2,000 miles, roughly, to Newfoundland, and an additional 1,000 to New York.

In loading the plane, food supplies were sacrificed to fuel, but in the cabin when the plane took off were a dozen thermos bottles containing hot beef tea and plain strong coffee. Each airman is also taking two bars of chocolate and Col. Fitzmaurice arranged at the last moment to have a dozen peeled oranges included.

If all goes well, the early afternoon Long Island sunlight Friday will show the Junker monoplane like a great silver moth as it flies toward its goal.

On the plane is written the word "Junkers" in 15-inch letters on either side of the nose, and "Bremen" in large letters on either side of the fuselage. In six foot letters on the bottom side of each wing is the symbol D1167, all the lettering being done in black. On either side of the tail is the factory symbol, W33-2504, and the Junkers trademark, an inverted triangle of blue and silver enclosing a figure which seems to carry out the semblance of delicate propeller blades to a graceful woman with outstretched arms. This trademark is also on the propeller.

The plane is all metal, and is constructed of rigid sheets of duraluminum, not unlike in appearance corrugated iron.

HURT IN RUNAWAY, BOY SUES CITY FOR $30,000

Henry Shapiro, a minor, yesterday entered suit through his father for $30,000 damages against the City of Pittsburgh for injuries suffered while the boy was driving a team in Center avenue past the Herron Hill reservoir. He says he was compelled to turn off the street because of an approaching street car, when the wagon was suddenly stopped by the overhanging branch of a tree on city property, causing the horses to run off, breaking the boy's leg and seriously injuring him internally.

PITTSBURGHER FREED OF BLAME IN DEATH

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 12.—William Conway, 25, of Pittsburgh, driver for the St. Louis Independent Packing Company, was exonerated of blame in the death of Joseph Vachino, 60, which resulted Monday when his truck ran away in Burgettstown, frightening a team of horses being driven by Vachino. Vachino was hurled from the seat of his wagon and killed.

Why We Behave Like Human Beings

by George A. Dorsey, Ph.D., LL.D.

What We Know Is the Knowledge That Is Power

We bite or we are bitten—that is the way in which we learn life, as Dr. Dorsey explained most interestingly in The Sun-Telegraph yesterday. Curiosity is the natural teacher; the motivating force of our investigations through which we build up our experiences. It's not surprising, then, that lively "kids" of 15 know as much as the average adult American.

Eyes Not Meant for Close Work

CHAPTER LVI.

KNOWLEDGE is power, no doubt; but what does it turn? Let society answer that question for its own collective and individual self. But what I know and what you know is that ice is cold, fire is hot, rock is hard, hills are high, stars are far, candy is sweet, vinegar is sour, rain is wet, wet paint comes off, wood burns, he is a good fellow, rubber stretches, roses have thorns, money talks, shoddy is shoddy, fleas bite, glass is smooth, mules kick, bulls bellow, roosters crow, corners are sharp, eggs are high, she is worth looking at, Tut-ankh-Amen is dead, the razor is dull, they are wearing them higher, all is not gold that glitters, babies are nuisances, parents are easily led.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

"How do you know he won't lend you $5?" "I asked him: I know."

That kind of knowledge is power.

When the engineer turns the steam on he knows how the steam will behave. He has monkeyed with steam, he can anticipate its response. When the navigator leaves Aden he sets his course for Bombay. He knows the behavior of his ship, his compass, and the sea. At a certain day he expects to sight a certain light.

Education From Birth

Education does not begin at 6: like charity, it begins at home, and at birth, and should never stop. But it is equally important to realize the full force of what Herrick means when he says:

"There is nothing in our experience, there are no mental powers, no skill in ratiocination or logical analysis, no capacity to forecast future events, no flights of imaginative fancy, which do not depend directly or indirectly upon sensory data."

The astronomer figured a bit and announced that the diameter of Betelgeuse, a star in the constellation Orion, is 200,000,000 miles.

Most of us finished with stars when we learned "Twinke, twinkle, little star," "Oh, look at the stars!" of "isn't that a bright star?" We stop our learning of many things when we can name them. We know many situations and solve many problems by mere phrases: "Chinese eat rats, "sweet land of liberty," "liberty enlightening the world," etc.

By the time we are ready to leave home we have a varied assortment of facts that we have learned ourselves; they are part of our own personal experience. This experienced knowledge is the result of our responses to external stimuli—stars, rocks, tacks, whistles, pennies, canday, rain, trees, etc.

Some stimuli are received by certain receptors, other stimuli by other receptors. Qualities especially are learned from stimuli to several receptors. Thus we learn most things as hard, soft, wet, dry, smooth, rough, greasy, sticky, etc., through no one sense organ. We learn that molasses is sticky not by looking at it, but by poking our finger in it; sweet, by tasting it. We know lard because we have seen and felt and smelled and tasted it, but neither eye nor nose perceives lard as greasy.

Building Up Senses

At first we had no organized sense of distance. We walked into and off things. The baby falls downstairs until he learns how far it is to the next step. He learns. He throws a ball and walks to pick it up: that gives him a sense of distance. At the creek he "throws a stone across," only the stone does not cross; he has not learned to distinguish distance on land and EVEN those not interested ordinarily in boxing may be interest next Monday night when Jack Zivic and Joe Katkish, both Lawrenceville boys, good friends, and former stablemates, meet in the ring in Motor Square Garden. The last time Katkish boxed here, Jack Zivic's brother, Pete, was his chief second. Where will Pete be next Monday night? Even ladies who don't know how many gloves the boxers use will be interested in the situation just ahead.

THERE are now fewer auctioneering shops in Pittsburgh than heretofore. It was not so long ago when any vacant store tempted the auctioneer to set up in business on a lease that allowed him low rental for the consideration that he would get out on a moment's notice when a more sturdy and reliable tenant came along.

The idly curious would drop into the auctioneer shops with their hands clasping tightly their pocketbooks, but they did not tarry long, for the shrewd auctioneers, usually expert judges of human nature, made them feel so uncomfortable they soon drifted out.

There were always about three "cappers" on duty, including a woman. It was their job to start the bidding, and to keep it going, if there seemed any danger that an article was going to be knocked down for a sum too small. A red flag outside the door signaled to the passers-by: "Auction Sale Today," and sometimes this was abetted by a bell-ringer who stood close to the doorway.

THIS type of auctioneer was blood-brother to the street corner faker, who under torchlight would speak volubly on the qualities of a telescope, a can opener, a razor sharpener, a knife-sharpener, ointment for rheumatism, and kindred articles.

A group of these fakers made their headquarters here for a long time, loafing in the region of Diamond street, when that street abounded with cafes and bars. They quartered here during the week and then on Saturday lighted out for the small towns in this section.

They had marked on their calenders the various pay-days in the various communities. Even in the days before the dollar had slumped off in purchasing power these boys used to make as high as $100 and $150 a week selling their goods to the yokels.

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait · by Elenore MEHERIN

Jerry Would Like to Know Just How Far Mary and Saxon Have Gone

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Jerry King, good looking, charming and nineteen, falls in love with Saxon Rhodes, a young architect. Marza, her fascinating mother, warns her that idealists like Saxon make poor husbands. When he goes abroad to study, Jerry promises to wait for him. Jerry agrees to wait three years longer. She wonders whether Saxon loves her as completely as she loves him. Saxon's attention to Ora Pringle gives Jerry a pang of jealousy. They attend a week end party where things start to happen She decides to give Saxon up. She discovers that Marza has another daughter of whose existence her husband had ben ignorant. Stephanie, Marza's daughter who was very ill, recovers and they go back home and Jerry finds life one trial after another with Saxon. Mary Eunice is to back Saxon to win in a contest, Jerry is jealous.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"IF I loved a man and had as much as you've got, I'd save him from that, Jerry. I wouldn't let Mary Eunice Pennings Bothwell marry Saxon Rhodes."

"I suppose about a million women since Eve, Sylvia, have schemed on saving men they wanted for themselves. I've never heard of one succeeding and leaving behind her the winning method of attack. Have you?"

"Think of all the wives who see their men gradually slipping from them. Think of all the girls who are standing by while the man they love goes to another and an unworthy other.

"How many women in this city alone, do you suppose lay awake last night and the night before that, praying and wondering how to outwit the other woman?"

"Some of them succeed," said Sylvia quietly. "When they've intelligence enough to win, they've humor and kindness enough to keep quiet about it.

"So there's no record telling of the victory. I wouldn't let Mary Pennings take the man I wanted from me. And that's that!"

"A bold, thrilling way to feel about it," said Jerry with faint cynicism. "But it doesn't work. And for your pains, you'd be told to quit pulling the mama-stuff. And you'd only infuriate your man and plunge him headlong to the soothing, acquiescent woman's arms."

"There are ways and ways of saying the grass is green," Sylvia went on stubbornly, the sharp black, black brows closed over her nose. "One way you say it the man will see it red—redder than red. I'd find the other way!"

"What is the other way?" thought Jerry, lying awake that night and going over for the hundredth time an imaginary interview, warning Saxon of his danger.

He would first of all deny the whole affair. Or he would admit it and scoff at her fears as the mere wild jealousy—the mean woman-way of suspecting and judging a rival.

If he loved Mary Eunice and wanted to marry her, she would have no right to say a word. And if he loved her and wanted to marry her, she would be a fool to take the mad Sylvia's advice. A man—although women would like and often try to deprive him of the privilege—has the right to pick his own mate. And after all, he knows best what he wants, though his friends be sure that they know what is best for him.

But if he didn't love Mary Eunice, someone should adroitly save him from this compromising—even shameful position.

Late Thursday afternoon a very nervous and high-strung Jerry casually dropped into the office of Saxon Rhodes.

She took pains that she was looking her most alluring. And she conjured all her resources: ordered her wit and impudence; her gaiety and audacity to be ready to do their uttermost.

A lone draftsman was sitting before his board, rather idly studying blue prints.

"Mr. Rhodes is not in town," he answered, pulling the sleeves down over a thin, hairy arm and preparing to leave.

"Is he in Los Angeles?"

For the first time the man looked up. "Oh, aren't you Miss King? Mr. Rhodes left a message for you. I was to mail it tonight. He's gone east. He'll be gone a month. You might as well take the letter."

"A month?"

"Yes—he's gone on business."

Jerry walked down the corridor to the stairs. She remembered the day she stood here watching Ora Pringle leaving Saxon's door. How wild she had been then! But what a flaming satisfying rage that was compared to this arid desolation!

Half way down the stairs she opened his letter. There were the names of several people whom he thought she should see. He had spoken of her and felt certain she could make these jobs.

He was gone to Melhurst to look over the site of the university.

"I'm going into this, Jerry, with everything I've got! I'm chancing my life on it, and I've got to win. I think I will."

Jerry folded the letter quietly. Mary had won.

CHAPTER XLIX.

MARY EUNICE PENNINGS enveloped in chiffons of lavender and jade, invited Jerry to share an 11:30 breakfast. Mary was draped enchantingly on a Louis XVI chaise lounge, her arms clasped behind her head, her legs, which were bare, doubled back in little-girl fashion, half under her. Jerry felt it a pity so alluring a pose should be wasted.

"Listen, Jerry," said Mary Eunice, "I'd like this room done all in black—perhaps a dash of orange, but something very startling and Arabian. I'm sick of rose and blue. I want something strong and eccentric, more like myself than these simpering colors. I think a black bedroom would give a great touch of mystery. I think it's quite what I want."

Jerry concealed a grin: "Purple of a rich but mellow shade would be just as striking and much more becoming to your complexion. The room ought to furnish a subtle background.

"Think how like a funeral black in a bedroom would be. I've read of nuns who had coffins put in their cells to remind them that death was near."

"Hardly a helpful hint in my bedroom," said Mary, with wicked tones "But you know this house is mine now and I'm going to have it done over from the attic to the second basement. I wish you'd make me a sketch of each room as you think it should be—then we'll go over them together.

"I want the house comfortable. So that a man would like it."

Jerry very faintly raised her eyebrows. She thought quickly: "What a grand little joke on me if I decorate a house for Saxon and her!"

He was gone three and a half weeks and on the homeward trip now.

There were letters that puzzled and thrilled Jerry. Letters like those he sent from Paris—full of his burning enthusiasm. He sent inspired sketches of his general scheme and asked her to wirte back what she thought of them.

She answered ardently, urging him to greater, more flaming efforts. She never dropped a hint of the information Sylvia had given. For she knew instinctively that a thing like this written in cold black and white becomes doubly poisonous. It would only make him darkly ferocious.

And it would harass him so that he would be unable to work with concentration. It would furiously shame him to know that Mary Eunice prattled of their bargain—if indeed such a bargain they had between them.

Let him get all he could from the trip. The money was spent, anyway. He should have enough to pay for this expense. When he returned she would visit him and, if possible, subtly warn him against involving himself with ANYONE on the money angle.

In this, at least, she would block Mary Eunice.

Whenever they met—and this was frequently—a feeling of combat dominated Jerry. She would think: "I'm better looking than you! I've more head, and God help us if I haven't a better soul! It's inconceivable that he should choose you to me. And I'm out to see that he DOESN'T. I'm out to beat you!"

Mary Harrison's Interesting Theory About Miss Lincoln

I HAD known that Mary was sharing my deductions concerning Eleanor Lincoln, but it startled me to hear her so perkily voice the conclusions which I had hesitated to accept, deeming them almost too bizarre for belief.

"Yes, I am sure that the 'owl' was either the read-bearded man or his comrade in the woods shack. Her explanation was altogether absurd."

"But what does it all mean?" Mary queried, with irritation in her voice. "I've thought and thought about it, and it's all like the tumbled pieces of a picture puzzle. You can't fit them in."

With a little start her last sentence made me suddenly remember something which Philip Veritzen had said when at his request I had described our new neighbors at The Larches.

"It all fits in," he had commented, and his manner, no less than the words, had signified that he held certain theories concerning our neighbors at The Larches which he was keeping to himself.

"Perhaps," I told Mary, with the memory of Philip Veritzen's manner strong upon me, "perhaps we'll suddenly find the missing piece, and the rest will fall into their places."

But Mary evinced no enthusiasm at my suggestion.

"Perhaps," she said dubiously, "but it sure is beyond me. At first I shared Granzie's opinion that the Lincoln dame is a member of a gang of crooks. And of course, that owl business tonight looks as if those other men were members of her gang, signaling to her either to remind her of something she has left undone, or telling her they're on her trail for revenge."

I almost ruined by risibles in the attempt to control them, she was so deliciously melodramatic. But finally I managed a quiet, "That is still your theory?"

"No-o!" she answered, and I found vent for my amusement in a sly comment.

"It is hard to reconcile with the charming personality of Mr. Jackson."

She dashed for the door with a touch of the temper she was trying to subdue, turned at it with regained poise and threw a saucy kiss at me.

"I'm not going to stay to be insulted," she declaimed. "But I'll leave you a great thought which just struck me. If you want to find the missing piece in the puzzle why don't you get that Mrs. Townsend to show you a copy of the painting which reminded her so much of the Lincoln dame and the wolfhound?"

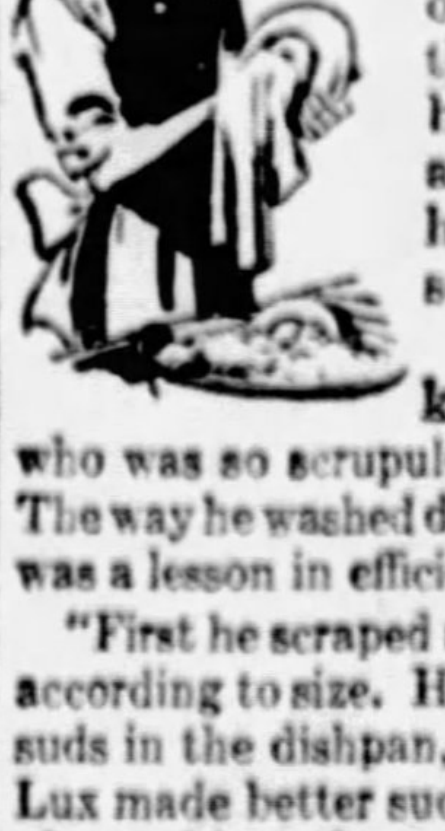
When a Man Goes in for Washing Dishes

"THE best housekeeper I ever had," said a young married woman the other day, "was a man.

"It was in a little village down in Maine where we lived for two years. Maids were scarce and I prevailed upon Joe to help me in the house. Joe had been in the Navy, and later had had his own fishing schooner.



"I have never known a woman who was so scrupulously neat as Joe. The way he washed dishes, for instance, was a lesson in efficiency.

"First he scraped and piled them all according to size. He used Lux for the suds in the dishpan, because, he said, Lux made better suds in half the time of anything else, also because Lux was easier on his hands.

"Sailors, he said, use Lux because their hands are often badly chapped and broken and Lux is soothing.

"Now I myself follow Joe's plan in doing dishes, and I always use Lux. The difference it has made in the looks of my hands is really amazing. Lux keeps them so white and smooth, that I've passed on the hint to my friends."

Because Lux contains none of the harmful alkali found in many household soaps, whether flakes, chips or cakes, it never irritates even the most sensitive skin, never dries the delicate oils of the hands.

And the big package of Lux washes 6 weeks' dishes.

Gives Your Hair Unusual Beauty

The attractiveness of even the most beautiful women depends upon the loveliness of their hair.

Fortunately, beautiful hair is now easily obtained. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

PRISONER WHO SHOT DENTIST INSANE

Listed for release tomorrow from the Western Penitentiary, Myron Ostoff, alias Joseph C. Holstein, was ordered sent to the Fairview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane yesterday by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen in Criminal Court.

The order was made on the authority of Drs. C. C. Wholey and Joseph S. Logan, sanity experts, who reported that the prisoner is insane. They were appointed to examine him on the recommendation of Warden Stanley P. Ashe of the penitentiary.

Ostoff was sentenced to 6½ to 7 years for felonious assault and battery in 1921, by Judge Thomas D. Carnahan. He was accused of shooting Dr. Joseph R. N. Miller, a dentist, in Carnegie January 6, 1921.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

"Little Season" Takes on New Life, as, One by One, Society Folk Drift Back Home

ONE by one, or rather, family by family, our society folks are drifting back home again, ready for what other cities would call the "little season." For you will admit that from all appearances the next month or so are going to be fairly busy ones. There are to be several benefits, one or two of them quite large, and the usual April supply of weddings. To be sure, several of these weddings which we had looked forward to as the source of a large amount of entertaining have been postponed, but there are still quite a few left on the social calendar.

The Sewickley Valley towns are beginning to take on a normal appearance again, with their houses reopened and familiar faces appearing again at the clubs. Among the returned travelers are the David M. Kirks, of Sewickley Heights. With their daughter, Mrs. Robina Kirk Quinby, and her son, David, they are at home after spending the winter in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Holdship Robinson, of The Barracks, Sewickley, with Mrs. Franklin T. Nevin and her son, Henry Nevin, are back in the valley, too. They have been motoring in Florida for the past three months, and on their way north they spent a few days in Charleston, S. C.

A few of those who elected to spend the winter months in California are also back home. Mrs. Andrew Armstrong, of Beaver road, Edgeworth, and her sisters, Miss Martha and Miss Jane Brown, have been spending the past six weeks out in Los Angeles, and they returned home this week.

ENGAGED TO WED

MISS MARION LEWIS

The engagement of Miss Marion Lewis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Lewis, [illegible]hester, W. Va., to James Moorhead Murdoch, Jr., Parnassus, has been announced. Miss Lewis was graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1927 and Mr. Murdoch in 1925. A fall wedding is planned.

Then, too, some local people are back from the East. For instance, the William McL. Pomeroys, of Beaver street, Sewickley, are home again after spending a fortnight in Atlantic City, and Mrs. Wallis J. Tener, of Shields, has returned to the Valley after being in New York all winter. Mrs. James Crossan Chaplin III, of Glen Osborne, is at home after spending two weeks with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Brown, Jr., of Boston.

One of the benefits arranged is to be given by the Smith College Club on the night of April 24 in the Alvin Theater. Walter Hampden will be seen in that romantic comedy drama, "Caponsacchi," which is, you know, based on Browning's "The Ring and the Book."

Elizabeth Dierks, who is general chairman for the benefit, will remain here for it and then a day or two later will sail with her mother, Mrs. W. C. Dierks, of Locust street, Edgewood, for the Riviera. They will join Miss Dierks' brother in Nice.

Mrs. K. W. Todd is vice chairman, and heading the various committees are: Tickets, Mrs. Charles Haisig; publicity, Miss Sophronia Roberts, who, by the way, returned yesterday from New York where she spent Easter; candy, Mrs. Joseph H. Bowman; program, Mrs. Todd and Mrs. E. P. Buchanan; patronesses, Mrs. Kenneth R. Cunningham; correspondence, Mrs. T. U. Cheesbrough; printing, Mrs. K. W. Gass, and aids, Mrs. Ralph D. Jones.

Mrs. Thomas C. Buchanan is chairman for the Beaver Valley; Mrs. John Barclay for Greensburg, and Miss Margaret Davidson, Coraopolis.

I understand that Marie McBride, daughter of the William McBrides, of Sewickley, who was a debutante last winter, is giving the wedding breakfast in honor of Mary McCann Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woods, of Broad street, Sewickley, who is to marry Edward Alexander Proctor on Saturday. There are to be 30 guests, among them the members of the bridal party and guests from out of town. The rehearsal dinner is to be given tomorrow night by Gladys Clarke, daughter of the Charles M. Clarkes, of Grove street, Sewickley.

Mrs. Henry R. Rea, of Sewickley Heights, has closed her Palm Beach house, I hear, and left on Monday with her grandchildren to join her daughter, Mrs. George A. Benney, Jr., in New York.

Miss Anne Louise Kinzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Kinzer, of Holden street, has chosen May 10 as the date for her marriage to John Edward Schutte, of Chicago, son of Mrs. Louise Schutte, of Elmer street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. Haupt, of Denniston avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Regina Haupt, to L. Leo Greenwald, of New York. Mr. Greenwald is a graduate of Columbia University and Miss Haupt was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh. No wedding date has been set.

* * *

Miss Clara Marie Walsh, general chairman for the third annual dance of the Cathedral High School Alumnae, to be held tomorrow night in the University Club, is assisted by the following committee heads: Tickets, Miss Helen Kloos; door, Miss Margaret Nuttall; patronesses, Miss Anne Wassel and Miss Geraldine Graffelder, and publicity, Miss Mary E. Boggs.

* * *

Mrs. James Hanlin, of the North Side, announces the marriage of her niece, Miss Theresa Krauth, and Peter M. Kunst, both of the East End, which was solemnized Sunday morning in St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church by the Rev. John L. Ernst. Mr. and Mrs. Kunst will live in South Graham street.

CLUB WOMEN AT TECH HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Mrs. Harold L. Lang was elected president of the Women's Club of Carnegie Institute of Technology at yesterday's monthly meeting. Other officers chosen for the new year are Mrs. J. C. Morehead, first vice president; Mrs. Clifford G. Dunnells, second vice president; Mrs. Roscoe M. Ihrig, third vice president; Mrs. J. C. Warner, fourth vice president; Mrs. Victor Saudek, secretary, and Mrs. William T. Crandell, treasurer.

In her impressions of China, the conflict between the old and new was discussed by Mrs. Walter H. Taylor, who lived in Shanghai for several years. "On every side in China," Mrs. Taylor told her fellow-members, "is the ancient, the traditional, the superstitious, walking side by side with the modern, the innovational, the material and machine-made. Side by side with the Confucian doctrine which for hundreds of years has held sway with its teaching that what one's father and grandfather have thought right must ever be right, that old custom is a proper measure for all conduct, walks now the Western Socratic conviction that everything must be tried, that machinery and science make all things possible.

James James is directing the "ladies' minstrel," which the Squirrel Hill Community Club will present in the Taylor Allderdice High School tomorrow night. Karovi, William Alton, John Koerber and William Waddell. Vera Mae Twigger will give solo dances. There will be vocal solos by Gladys Kelso, Zetau Hill, Margaret Collins and Blanche Clippinger, assisted by a chorus of 30 voices and Arthur W. Smith as accompanist. There also will be orchestra selections under the direction of Carl Ertzman. The proceeds are to be used for the club's philanthropies.

A special program in keeping with the blind prevention week planned for next week by club women will be given by the Tourists' at their meeting in the Congress club house, Monday afternoon. The current events discussion will be under the leadership of Mrs. George O. Loeffler and Mrs. W. A. Griffiths. The privilege of guests has been extended to the club members for the day.

America's foremost producer of revues, FLO ZIEGFELD, reveals how women can always look their best

FLORENZ ZIEGFELD, creator of the Revue, producer of the famous "Ziegfeld Follies," "Rio Rita," "Rosalie," the musical version of "Show Boat" and many other lavish productions.

THOUSANDS of ordinarily attractive women fail to achieve loveliness because of this one tiny everyday mistake. Instead of choosing the precisely correct tone in their own shade of face powder, they simply ask for Rachel, Naturelle, Rose, etc., little realizing that face powder shades, even of the same name—are never alike—that with one, only the most ordinary results may be achieved while another brings out an exquisite radiance and loveliness of skin texture and color often previously undiscovered.

No one perhaps is more aware of this astonishing difference than Florenz Ziegfeld—famous creator of the Follies, one of the few distinguished experts on feminine beauty in America. Mr. Ziegfeld says: "There are no shades of known face powder in my opinion that stimulate more naturally the color characteristics of the average skin, that blend more imperceptibly, that so marvelously emphasize loveliness as those of Houbigant—and yet they never cause a made-up appearance—a thing which I detest."

In addition to these fascinating shades of Houbigant powder smart women have found in the new Quelques Fleurs Skin Lotion an extremely effective liquid powder base. 4 oz., $1. Houbigant powders are offered in 6 shades and 12 lovely odeurs—75c and $1.50. For purse use—in the smart new double compact—$2.50.

HOUBIGANT face powder in the new size 75¢

Houbigant face powders may be had in the following shades: Naturelle, Ocre, Rachel, Rosee, Ocre Rosee and Blanche, and in all the most famous of Houbigant fragrances.

PARFUMEUR TO THE NOBILITY OF THREE CENTURIES

TO EVICT 19 FAMILIES

PREPARATIONS AT BARRACKS RUSHED

Following up its determination to evict families of all striking union miners, still occupying company-owned houses, the Pittsburgh Coal Company was prepared today to dispossess 19 families at its Westland and Midland workings.

Officials of the Mine Workers' Union were rushing preparations to house the evicted families in the temporary wooden shacks that have become the homes of thousands of strikers in the Pittsburgh area.

The coal operators fighting to break the union following abrogation of the Jacksonville wage scale agreement, have evicted most of their former employes who, they say, have failed to pay any rent since the strike became effective April 1, 1927. The procedure has been to post constable notices on premises occupied by striking workmen, and after 10 days, put the eviction order into effect.

FIVE SHARPSBURG BOYS HELD IN CAR ROBBERIES

Five Sharpsburg boys were held for court on larceny charges when arraigned last night before Justice James A. Hernon, of Sharpsburg, in connection with the robbing of freight cars in the Pennsylvania railroad yards in that borough. They are Charles Shaffer, Edward, Clarence and Raymond Hilderhoff, brothers, and Sylvester Clements, all of Main street, Sharpsburg.

PITT CO-EDS USE VOTING MACHINES

Progressive Pitt co-eds yesterday staged the first machine made, guaranteed on the level election held in Pittsburgh. They borrowed a voting machine and with it conducted the annual election of officers of the Women's Self-Government Association of the school.

By use of the voting machine it was possible to announce results almost immediately after the last vote was recorded, and those in charge of the election were sure that they would not be held responsible for ballotbox stuffing, which has been known to have happened even in college elections.

The co-eds decided upon the up-to-date method of conducting their election after the use of voting machines had been discussed in a political science class.

The successful candidates were: Miss Mabel DeForest, president; Miss Betty Clark, vice president; Miss Naomi Elder, secretary, and Miss Helen Sekey, treasurer.

Why We Behave Like Humans

water. By experience he builds up a sense of distance, space, depth.

An Englishma announces to his Colorado host that he will work up an appetite for breakfast by w lk to "that littl hill." He has not learned Colorado atmosphere; the "hill" is 10,000 feet high, 15 miles away.

Our two eyes are not far apart; but my left eye can see what my right cannot unless I move my head. The nearer the object the more each eye sees what is beyond reach of the other; the greater is the resultant eye-strain in binocular vision. The eye-strain is a clue to distance. As the background also is seen as two images by the two eyes, another clue to distance results. The child continually reaches for objects just beyond reach. As a drunken man does, having lost much of his learning through temporary derangement of his "higher faculties."

Our eyes were evolved before print was invented; they are not naturally adapted for close-ups. In reading or examining close-up objects the axis of vision (center of fovea to center of lens) must change from parallel to an angle. Countless early adjustments of these axes are part of the experience which lead to sense of distance.

Adjustment of Vision

A silver dollar 10 feet away looks different from a dollar a foot away—its image on the retina is smaller. If I know the object I see to be a dollar, or a man, or a tree, I have a clue to the distance of dollar, man, tree. One gets a new perception of the size of St. Peter's by standing at one end and watching a tall man walk to the other end. Smaller, smaller he grows; at last he seems like a child. "It is big!" we exclaim.

Distance and depth learning begins with the fact that the stimulus itself changes with distance from the eyes, and that every response we make with our eyes requires action in a complex muscular mechanism. The photographer focuses his camera. As do I when I lift my eyes from my book to the clock tower a mile away: I must make far-reaching adjustments in both eyes. They are made by many muscles controlled by several nerves. I may not know I have such muscles: my body knows. Adjustment of iris alone involves three distinct sets of muscles that must work in harmony and at the same time.

Crippled by MOTHERHOOD'S Sacrifice

Should she remarry ?

All the flowers of her heart were in her husband's grave, all hope of joy buried forever with her little one, yet—

Why did John implore, with his dying breath, that she should marry his brother Jimmy? She—hopelessly crippled by motherhood's sacrifice!

Surely, only sorrow could come from such a union, only a useless blight on Jimmy's brilliant medical career.

But when he loyally, solemnly reminded her of the deathbed oath, she acquiesced.

Weeks passed, leaden, useless weeks—until she made a terrible discovery Another child was coming—a poor, condemned little life that surely sentenced her to death.

Bitterly, bitterly she loathed the man she had so coldly married. "Murderer!" she screamed—little dreaming why he endured her mad tirades with that look of sad, loyal patience.

When the terrible day came, she went to the hospital as to her grave. How tense and cruelly silent Jimmy was! And he her doctor—did he intend to kill her and his own fame at one stroke?

Days later, she awoke. How strange it was! She could see, and feel—yes, that was it—her lifeless limbs could feel! No longer paralysed! And her baby, what had happened—

But you will want to read this tremendous true story for yourself—complete in May TRUE STORY—now on sale. It is called "The Man I Loved—and the Man I Hated." Only life itself could unfold a story of such sacrifice and devotion as this, only the woman who lived it could tell you about it as she does in TRUE STORY. HOW TO KEEP WELL

U.S. Senator from New York

Cure Baby's Cold Quickly to Avoid Pneumonia

ONE of the most dreadful of the diseases of young children is that life-taking ailment, broncho-pneumonia.

Mind you, this is not the kind of pneumonia which comes on suddenly and which is fatal to grown-up folks. The kind of pneumonia I am speaking of is really an extension of inflammation from the nose and throat to the bronchial tubes. It is common in children and always serious.

DR COPELAND

When a grown person has a cold it does not amount to much. Perhaps I should not state it just this way, because colds are too commonly neglected. But serious results are not frequently observed.

In young children, however, a cold is not a thing to be disregarded. What is so negligible in adults is most serious in infancy. You are aware, of course, that colds are among the most contagious of diseases. You will see that in any office or home. If one member of the household, or of the office staff has a cold, it won't be long before all the rest of the group will be infected.

Because of this contagiousness, it is most important to guard the infant against infection. When somebody in the family has a cold, the baby should be protected. It is absolutely wicked to expose this tender and helpless human being to the dangers of the common cold.

I use the word dangers advisedly. A cold may not be actually dangerous to you, but it is dangerous to a tiny babe. Why is it dangerous?

Because if a little baby gets a cold and it is not relieved at once, within a week it may creep down to the lungs. Then there is trouble.

In the air and all about us are innumerable germs. It is a wonder that anybody escapes disease. But here is a delicately constituted baby, all ready to take up these harmful germs.

On top of all this are the outrageous ways an attractive baby is treated. Hugged and tossed and tumbled and kissed—no wonder the child rebels!

If you have the slightest suspicion you have a cold, leave the baby alone. The kindest thing you can do is to shun the child.

An infant should not be taken into street cars, crowded elevators, stores and other places where crowds gather. Guard that precious life as you would the most valuable diamond the world ever saw.

Many folks are most inconsiderate of the rights of others. Nobody should sneeze or cough or talk loudly, under such circumstances as to spray moisture into the air. Every drop of this secretion is loaded with infectious material if you have a cold.

If in spite of all your precautions the baby gets a cold, talk with your doctor about it. A stitch in time saves nine.

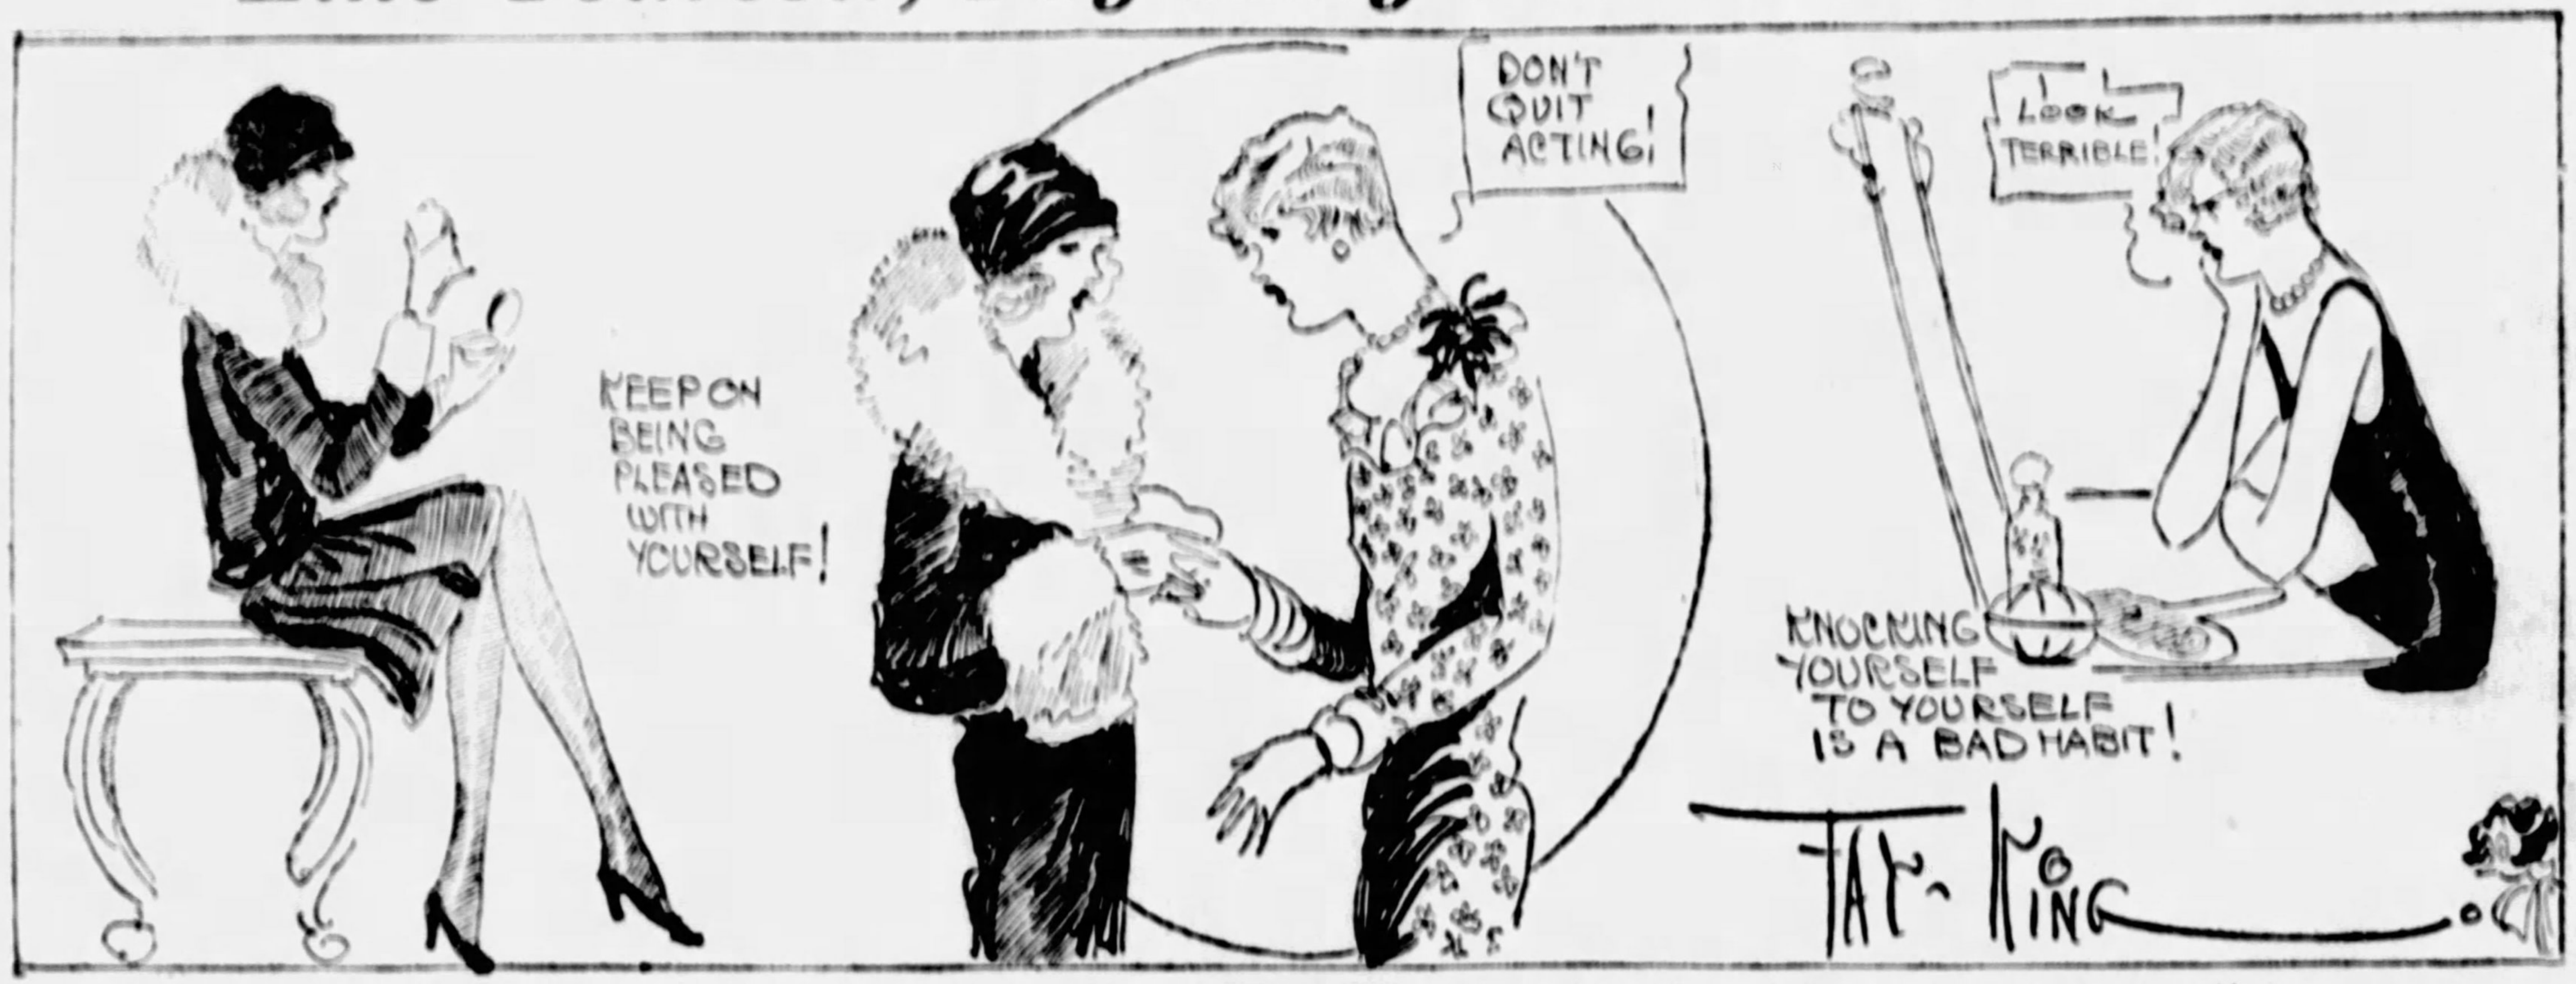
Like Yourself, Fay King's Advice to Girls



KEEP ON BEING PLEASED WITH YOURSELF!
DON'T QUIT ACTING!
I LOOK TERRIBLE!
KNOCKING YOURSELF TO YOURSELF IS A BAD HABIT!
FAY KING

By FAY KING.

MANY a woman makes herself miserable by sitting in front of her mirror, and knocking herself to herself!

Naturally, when she sits there, frowning and picking flaws as no one else would, she is bound to begin to feel blue and miserable.

She forgets how once she was so satisfied with herself, took such pride in every dainty little thing she purchased, and made most of all her good points.

Now she is just in reverse gear and makes too little of everything.

The reason for all this is that she used to concentrate favorably upon herself the way she was.

This wasn't conceit. It was confidence.

Now she is concentrating unfavorably upon herself and she has become that dissatisfied.

Keep on having confidence. Let others do as they please! Do as you please about your hair and hats and dresses. Don't get to the place where you pick yourself to pieces and become dissatisfied with your own personality.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

CHOOSE YOUR BRAND OF MARRIAGE

YOU can choose your own brand of marriage, these days.

If you like it sweet and old-fashioned and settled and suburban, "with roses peeping in and babies peeping out," and gardens and lawnmowers, and servant problems and bungalow aprons and gingham curtains and embroidered guest towels—well, that's the marriage for YOU!

* * *

It's good and solid and wholesome—if not stimulating or exciting or disturbing. It's the kind that Mother used to make—an old established brand, recommended by all doctors, clergymen and wise people.

HELEN ROWLAND

But if you like the fifty-fifty marriage, with your own job and your own pay envelope and your own latch key, with a kitchenette apartment and "arty" curtains, and gay little restaurant dinners together, sketchy breakfasts, and your "independence" and all that—well, you can have that, too.

* * *

Only be sure to choose the right sort of fifty-fifty husband, who believes in reciprocity and won't reneg on wiping the dishes and will enjoy painting the furniture, and will help you cook the bacon if you help him bring it home. They're hard to find.

* * *

Or if you prefer a "part-time marriage," in which you have separate studios, and separate careers, and separate friends and separate towels and brushes and amusements—well, that's fashionable too, these days.

It isn't exactly "marriage," but it's a good imitation and warranted to last long. And there MAY be some comfort in opening your own mail and knowing just where to find your talcum, and not having anybody around to muss up your papers or fuss with your pens and brushes, or wake you up prowling around the house, nights.

* * *

Seeing each other only on Fridays and Tuesdays and holidays, and having only two breakfasts together a week is likely to help keep the bloom on the romance a great deal longer—especially for two artistic temperaments. The part time marriage has its POINTS!

* * *

Or if you prefer the fashionable marriage, in which one of you lives in Paris or at Palm Beach, and the other spends the winters in New York and the summers at Newport, and you are considered happily married as long as you exchange postcards—well, that's being done, too.

* * *

Only be sure, before you decide to take one, that you are willing to pay the PRICE. For every brand of marriage LOOKS like a bargain—but Fate always comes around to collect the bill!

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, April 13

The big oak tree did not grow from a little acorn that had no ambition.—ANON.

ACCORDING to the high mental stimulus flowing from certain planetary operations this day, it will be difficult to think or to act in humdrum grooves or to follow the routine affairs. There will be a leaning toward research and invention with diligence and sturdiness as well as high enterprise. It is a fine time for experimenting with finer forces or metaphysical laws. The employment, however, should be safeguarded and personal affairs protected from duplicity.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of keen and unusual predispositions toward the unusual or unexplored fields of action. Diligence and perseverance in this direction is seen, but do not risk regular employment. Keep treachery from the home and personal contacts.

A child born on this day may be ingenious, skillful and inventive as well as diligent and persevering, but might not succeed so well in routine employment.

FOR THE LOVELORN

Bobby

DEAR MISS GALE:

Please give me some of your wonderful advice, for I am past 17 and I have a problem that I viewed and reviewed in my brain until I think I shall go insane. Miss Gale, about nine months ago I met a fellow at a dance and we both fell hard. He is now about 26. At that time he was going with a girl three years younger than I, but to this day she can pass for three years older than I. But to get to my problem, I went with this fellow for five months. We were in love and planned to be engaged the first of the year. He was hurt at work, during this time he flimmed me on four dates and said that his leg was still injured and that his parents cannot talk on the telephone and in that way he was unable to let me know that he could not come on those four evenings. Miss Gale, my mother liked this fellow until he started to flim me, and then she was always nagging about how poor he was and all that. He is poor, Miss Gale, but I love him, and since I cannot go to my mother and tell her this without an unpleasant scene, I harbor my love and grief in my heart. Since we do not go together he goes with the old girl, off and on, but we go to the same dances and he speaks and I speak, but I dare not dance with him because of my mother's wrath. We look at each other and watch each other, and I know he longs for me as I long for him. I cry myself to sleep and sit and gaze into space, but, Miss Gale, I can't forget him. Oh, Miss Gale, if you only help me out of this position. I plan to run away and then marry him. Oh, I am desperate, for four months I have been a good girl, but now I can't hold it back any longer. If my mother must say with whom I can go and all than, she should at least give preference to the only one I love. Well, Miss Gale, my case is in your hands. Please help me to struggle out of it somehow. Is running away the only solution?

BOBBY.

Running away is no solution at all, my dear. Have the boy come and talk with your mother, Bobby, and perhaps she will understand the situation better.

Me

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a steady reader of your advice and I am asking you to help me. I am in love with a girl and she says that she loves me, but she very seldom gives me a date, but she gives two other boys lots of them. How may I win her love and how may I become popular with the girls?

ME.

Be attentive and considerate and she will love you. She certainly isn't much in love with you now or she would see you more frequently. Perhaps you are a little bashful with girls. Acquire more self assurance.

Your Hands Speak

By Edna Wallace Hopper

While you perform hundreds of commonplace tasks, everyone present watches your hands.

You pour tea. You open your purse. You shake hands with an acquaintance. You put on your gloves. All day long people watch your hands.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

Do your hands speak for you? Do they suggest daintiness? They can be firm, capable and at the same time exquisitely kept with practically no effort. Youth Lotion is rubbed into the skin, leaving your hands smooth and dry, so that you can wear gloves immediately, after applying.

Just keep a bottle on your dressing table and one where you work (in your kitchen, your office or shop). Use it every time you wash your hands.

The pleasurable sense of feeling your skin so satiny—of seeing it so soft and white—is worth a good deal more than the slight effort. The cost is trivial. You can get a large bottle of my Youth Hand Lotion at any toilet counter, 60 cents.

★ Dentists tell the three fundamentals of mouth hygiene

HERE are the results of an investigation conducted among 50,000 practicing dentists. Their statements establish beyond any argument, certain fundamental truths about dental hygiene. It has been their experience that:

Acids are the most frequent cause of tooth decay and infected gums.

The most serious trouble occurs at the place where teeth and gums meet—known as The Danger Line.

The best product known to neutralize acids in the mouth is Milk of Magnesia.

It is easy to see, from this consensus of professional opinion, that it is not only necessary to brush your teeth, but also to use a dentifrice that neutralizes the dangerous mouth acids that cause tooth decay.

Squibb's Dental Cream was made with this purpose in mind. It contains more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia—an amount ample to reach into all those tiny pits and crevices on your teeth which are inaccessible to any tooth-brush. The Milk of Magnesia thus counteracts the acids, and remains to protect your teeth and gums after use.

Squibb's Dental Cream cleans thoroughly, relieves sensitive teeth and keeps the gums in healthy condition. It contains nothing that can harm the delicate tissues in your mouth. You will enjoy using it. 40c a large tube at all druggists.

And afterward—Postum won't get on your nerves, won't rob you of sleep, won't disturb digestion, as caffein beverages do. For Postum is made of roasted whole wheat and bran—no trace of any artificial stimulant in it! A drink quickly made—with a distinctive flavor millions prefer!

Order Postum today—start the 30-day test! Then, on a basis of results, decide if you will ever go back to mealtime doses of caffein! ANOTHER UNSOLICITED TRIBUTE FOR ALL-BRAN

Good news for sufferers from constipation

Mrs. Kiell sat down and wrote us a letter when she had proved ALL-BRAN a safe "sure-cure" for constipation. Read her voluntary tribute:

April 4, 1927

"I have been using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for quite some time and I want to tell you how much I appreciate it. I have found it a sure-cure for constipation, and know it is a remarkable regulator for the stomach. After using it, my family and I certainly will not be without it. I have even gone so far as to send some of it to my mother in Poland, Europe."

Gratefully yours,
MRS. ANNA KIELL,
77 Wolcott Terrace, Newark, N. J.

Perhaps you know what a terrible affliction constipation is. Blighting wherever it thrives. Ruining health. Marring beauty. Causing headaches, back pains, foul breath, loss of sleep—indeed, leading to more than forty serious diseases.

But did you know it can be easily relieved by a pleasant cereal food? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring relief. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Serve with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use in cooking. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Cardinals' 14 Runs Biggest Total Registered Against Pirates in Opener in 42 Years—Corsairs' Attacking Strength Is Pleasing—Barnhart Refuses to Be Ousted—Cohen Gets Jump on Hornsby.

CHEER UP! Don't let the loss of such a thing as one baseball game put you in the dumps or shake your confidence in the pennant chances of the Pirates for an instant.

Donie Bush.

True, there is a sort of extra thrill in winning the first game of the season, and thus getting off on the right foot in the flag race, but, if you happen to fail in the effort and draw a defeat instead of a victory in the inaugural joust, it is not to be looked upon as an omen of ill fortune nor as indicating disaster during the entire campaign.

It means only that one game has been lost, and a defeat in the opening day of the season doesn't count for a bit more than a reverse suffered in August and September.

THAT was just one day and one game. Both sides could not win, and it merely happened to be the Cardinals' day. Bear in mind that there are 153 games more to be played, and that it is not what is done in the first game, nor in the first series, nor in the first month of a season that wins pennants, but what is done through the entire course of the pennant fight that stretches out to the end of September.

Give the Cardinals credit for their victory and then forget all about that initial reverse while trusting to Donie Bush and his crew to keep the Buccaneer brig from following a losing course long enough to hurt their flag chances very seriously at the start.

Besides, without offering any alibis for the Corsairs, it must not be forgotten that the St. Louis National League club holds the reputation of being the hardest club in the major leagues to beat on its own grounds. Last year, for instance, the Cards won 56 games and lost only 25 at home, a percentage of .691, which means that the Mound City aggregation bagged practically 70 per cent of the arguments waged on its own ash heap. Even the Giants, themselves reputed to be pretty steady winners at home, were seven games behind the Redbirds in victories on their own grounds.

HOWEVER, the real test of a ball club is playing on the road, and that's where the Cards failed to stand the acid. Though leading the league at home, they were unable to get better than an even break on the road, winning 36 contests and losing the same number. Both the Pirates and Giants surpassed them abroad, where the Missourians lost all that they had picked up at home.

Clyde Barnhart.

So it might be wise to refrain from accepting the St. Louis victory of yesterday as an indication of their pennant superiority over the Pirates. Perhaps the Cards are only going to repeat their winning home act of a year ago.

THERE is plenty of encouragement to be found in the fact that, in spite of their defeat, Father Pitt's battlers showed up pleasingly in their own attack. With 15 safeties they came within one of making as many hits as St. Louis, and in scoring seven runs they registered a scoring title far above the average. A club able to hit like that will win a whole lot of ball games.

It isn't often that a team scoring seven runs is beaten, and with such a total to work on Remy Kremer would win nine contests out of ten.

It was simply a case of the big Frenchman's not being in his best form, for with all due respect to the batting powers of Bill McKechnie's men, St. Louis nor any other team is in the habit of nicking Remy for six runs and nine hits in five innings, when he is anywhere near being in his stride. Incidentally Glenn Spencer looked like a real pitcher. It might be necessary to send him away for a year, but he has the goods.

THIS is Pittsburgh's forty-second season in the National League, and yesterday's score was the largest made against the local club in an opening game in all that time.

Sparky Adams.

Never before did an opposing club make so many as 14 runs against the Pirates in the first game of a season.

The largest score ever piled up against the Pirates in a previous lid-lifter was 11. St. Louis beat the locals, 11 to 3, in 1894, and Louisville repeated the beating, 11 to 2 in 1895. Double figures were reached by the enemy on three other occasions, when Chicago, Louisville and St. Louis made 10 in 1890, 1898 and 1922.

St. Louis appears to be the jinx spot of the Freebooters in the matter of opening games. Not only have they lost the last three inaugurals played there, but in the three games, the Cards amassed a total of 31 runs—10 in 1922, seven in 1926 and 14 in 1928.

ONE of the annual jokes of the training period is the regularity with which Clyde Barnhart is consigned to the scrap heap and the equal regularity with which he confounded his critics by bobbing up as a regular on opening day or very soon afterward.

Every year they have somebody picked for Barnhart's job. Pooch is a slow starter and rarely does anything in training camp, so when a flashy rookie proceeds to strut his stuff the baseball world is informed that Barnhart has lost out and will be supplanted by a new man.

But always they were forgetting about Barney's base hits. The Hagerstown citizen may have his faults, but there isn't a pitcher in the league that he can't hit, and when he begins to rattle them off the boards it is speedily discovered that he is worth a dozen flashy recruits who can field in brilliant fashion but are found wanting when the old sock is needed.

Glenn Spencer.

THIS year, it was said Comorosky had Barnhart beaten for the vacant outfield post, but when the bell rang yesterday Pooch was in there as the best bet. And he came through, too, getting two hits and two walks in five trips to the plate for an average of .667.

Barnhart is kept batting in seventh position in order to avoid splitting the speed of the team, he being not so fast as the other regulars, but even there the hits

MAROONS AFTER TITLE

MONTREAL, April 12.—(AP.)—Determined to clinch the victory without further ado, the Montreal Maroons meet the New York Rangers tonight in what may be the deciding game of the Stanley cup series. Victory in tonight's game will give the Maroons possession of the trophy for the second time in three years.

The Rangers, handicapped by the loss of their goalie, Lorne Chabot, will be fighting all the harder to tie up the series and force a fifth game to decide the issue. In addition to losing Chabot, the Rangers have another handicap in a "charley horse" which Bill Cook, star right wing, received during Tuesday's fray.

One substitute player from each team, Paul Thompson of the Rangers and Joe Lamb of the Ma-

THE local Olympic Fund Committee certainly hit on a live idea when it decided to stage a big amateur boxing show and theatrical entertainment program at Motor Square Garden early next month to raise this section's quota of the fund to defray the expenses of the American squad to Amsterdam.

For the first time the committee will not be asking for out-and-out donations, but will be giving the public something in return for its money. With an attractive card there is no reason why the $6,000 quota should not be easily obtained from this one source.

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Showing little or no discouragement over the happenings of yesterday, the Pirates this morning were loaded with pep as they prepared for the second game of the season.

"Well, we are glad that's over," was the collective feelings of the Bushwhackers who showed a "let's get down to business" front that augured well for the slumping team.

There was a directness of purpose about Donnie Bush as he announced Burleigh Grimes, spitball star, as the slab selection for the second tussle of the race. Skipper Bill McKechnie of the Cardinals nominated Grover Cleveland Alexander, than whom baseball has not produced a better pitcher.

If we call Grimes a veteran, what shall we call Aleck the Great? The patriarch is said by those close to him, to be in remarkable condition. If that be the case the Freebooters will be in for a hard afternoon, as BOWLERS who attempted yesterday to roll into the high score ranks of the American Duckpin Congress tournament on the Haus alleys, North Side, were unsuccessful. High scores of Tuesday in the five-men, doubles and singles remained unscathed.

In the women's team competition, however, the Hugo Club of Pittsburgh, went into first place with a score of 1,789, and the Clark's Chevrolet team of Beaver, Pa., tied with the Brookline Ladies Club No. 1 team for third place, with 1,500. The Clark's Celtics, also of Beaver, rolled into second position with 1,541.

The best score made in the day's rolling in the five-men event was turned in by the Wm. G. Johnston Co. five, a 2,262. The Fremm team was second for the day with 2,232.

In the doubles, J. Gorman and H. Williams toppled the pins for a 1,019 score, placing them second in the standing. Hunter and Vanucci scored 1,005 and Pintella and Burns 955.

Five more bowlers rolled better than 500 in the singles. B. Kost led with a 519; Maier scored a 521; Tropp, a 509; Early, a 510 and Hadie a 503.

In the women's singles, M. Schlosser led with a 347. B. Schlosser was second with 343, and Mrs. Strickler third with 320. All hail from Beaver.

The P. Schlosser-M. Schlosser doubles rolled a 612 score in the women's doubles.

Young Stars Show Skill

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—Beset by weather more suitable for the gridiron than the diamond, 14 teams yesterday began their annual bid for major league baseball honors. Two others, Washington and Boston, clashed in what was just a ball game. They had stolen a march on the field by making their opening gestures pennantward on Tuesday.

Nearly 200,000 persons knocked off work to see the eight games. Opening day in 1927 saw 227,660 fans in attendance, although only seven games were played.

The first general engagement brought with it a series of surprises; recruits basked in the limelight; sluggers were meek before pitching skill; such hurling aces as Petty, Kremer, Root, Grove and Lyons all had nothing to show for their first day's work but a "one" in the lost column.

GROVE WILD

Wild and unsteady, Grove, the speedball expert, lasted only three innings against the New York Yankees, who mowed down Connie Mack's Athletics at Philadelphia, 8 to 3. The world champions were beaten consistently during the spring training season, but they showed no signs of being "punch drunk" yesterday. Babe Ruth hit no home runs, but a triple and a pair of passes, enabled him to score twice.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, defending their National League crown, ran into an avalanche of hits at St. Louis and bowed to the Cardinals, 14 to 7. Ray Kremer, Pirate ace, was knocked out of the box.

Led by Andy Cohen, young Jewish star, John McGraw's New York Giants vanquished the Boston Braves at the Polo Grounds, 5 to 2. Cohen, playing in the spot graced last year by Rogers Hornsby, accounted for four of the Giants' runs and starred afield.

REDS TOP CUBS

Jimmy Ring outpitched Jess Petty to give the Phillies a 4 to 3 decision over Brooklyn at Ebbets Field.

A home run by Freddy Maguire, rookie second baseman, saved the Chicago Cubs from a shutout at the hands of Cincinnati Reds at Cincinnati. The Reds hit Charlie Root opportunely to win, 5 to 1. Adolf Luque, giving the Cubs only seven hits, was very effective.

With George Uhle showing a return to form, the Cleveland Indians battered Ted Lyons and George Connally for 13 hits and beat the Chicago White Sox at Chicago, 8 to 2.

Forty thousand, the largest crowd of the day, saw the revamped St. Louis Browns beat Detroit at Tigerland, 4 to 1.

At Boston the Washington Senators avenged their first game defeat at the hands of the Red Sox, by hammering out an 8 to 4 victory over Bill Carrigan's charges. Four Red Sox hurlers paraded to the mound to little or no avail. Ken Williams' hitting was the only bright spot from a Hub viewpoint. He got a home run and two doubles.

Beatty, Scello Clash

M'KEESPORT has its boxing innings again tonight, with Allen Beatty and Phil Scello meeting in the 10-round windup. Johnny Vivio boxes Mickey Solmen in the semi-final and there will be two six-round preliminaries. Young Tennessee of New Castle and William Kane of McKeesport will tangle in one of these clashes and Young Angelo of Swissvale and Eddie Myers of McKeesport in the other.

Linn Jordan and Young Saylor box a 10-rounder at Johnstown tonight.

The advance sale for the Jack Katkish-Jack Zivic bout at Motor Square Garden next Monday night is the best of the present season, according to Manager John L. Hernon. All the regular fans are getting in line for choice seats. Katkish is training daily in the Motor Square gym and looks to be in the best form of his career. Among the fans who have made reservations at the ringside are: Dr. Ashcom, Eddie Bald, Elmer Braun, Charles Borland, Dr. Briney, Buck Crouse, Dr. Cramer, Jim Courtney, Joe Chapman, Milton D. Crandall, Walter Dipple, M. Delehanty, Eddie Damreau, Maj. Donley, Tom Dougherty, Dr. Fulton, Dr. Franklin, Bob Gumbert, Sam Grenet, Dr. Halferty, Squire James Hernon, Joseph Hildorfer, M. Herwitt, R. W. Heyl, Dr. Irwin, T. W. Jones, Joe Jacobs, Charles J. Kennedy, J. J. Kirby, Joe Kenny, Lew Levine, Howard Lefever, Bert Langenheim, Edward Lutz, E. C. Long, Harry Little, Jack Metz, J. L. Miller, Francis Murphy, Joseph Mazer, Albert Mazer, Mike Muldowney, Rody Marshall, John McGarvey, Harry McDonald, Bill Nowe, Howard Mayberry, Harry I. Neaman, Tom O'Donnell, Judge Orie, Fred W. Pilgram, J. Piper, Charles Prichard, Harry Perry, C. J. Hylands, Harry Rubin, Magistrate Scost, M. Scarpaci, Jim Simpson, Harry Shekels, G. M. Sixsmith, Charles Scott, Charles Sherman, P. J. Sullivan, Nick Star, Frank Saupp, Max Schutte, Howard Strain, Ralph Schugar, Vogel brothers, Harry Votel, Alderman Wilson, Dr. Walters, Ben Williams and Peter P. Walsh.

Tommy Crowley and Tony Phillips left last night to return to Indianapolis, where they have more bouts pending. They will join Tony Ross there.

Reports from East Liverpool, O., giving Young Piazzi credit for a victory over Harry Taylor in their eight-round main bout there last Monday night appear to have been all wrong. Clippings from the East Liverpool papers credit Taylor with the victory in a whirlwind bout. He knocked down Piazzi in the first round and floored him again in the third, Piazzi barely beating the referee's count on the latter occasion.

that ring off his trusty baat are found so valuable to the club that it just can't do without him.

Manager Bush's comment on the clamor for the return of Hazen Cuyler to the lineup last year after Ki had recovered from his injury was: "Am I expected to take Barnhart out of there when he is hitting .380 and winning four games a week for us? Well, some persons may consider that good judgment, but I can't see it from any angle."

MENTION of Cuyler brings to mind that he had an edge on Adams on offense in the first chance to compare them yesterday. Cuyler had a single and a walk and stole a base, accepting two chances in the field, while Adams went hitless for the Bucs in five times at bat and handled three chances in the field.

While on the subject of comparisons, Rogers Hornsby did not cause any commotion in the game against the club that traded him, failing to get a hit, but Andy Cohen, filling Hornsby's old post at second for Giants, fielded faultlessly, cracked out three hits and pounded in a couple of runs. There is likely to be a slight difference in the relative work of the two performers before the season has advanced very far.

THE old game still is in a pretty healthy state, evidently, when the eight opening games drew a total approximating 250,000 spectators. Seemingly it is going to live another year or two, anyhow.

SIANO BANQUET TONIGHT

The members of the Siano basketball team, P. & O. League champion, will be honored at a banquet tonight. Among the speakers will be James F. Malone, president of council and other city officials.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS EDITOR

aides should make a whopping success of the affair.

FELLOW in our office would like to see a group picture of the rookies who weren't good enough to make the grade with the Phillies this spring.

JIM CORBETT, former heavyweight champion, in town this week for a vaudeville engagement, was led yesterday into telling about his four-round bout with Jack Sharkey at San Francisco, back in 1896. A remark was made that boxers of today were more quickly disqualified for rough tactics than in the time of Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, et al.

Jim Corbett.

"That's right," mused Corbett. "I'll never forget my first meeting with Tom Sharkey. There was the roughest baby of them all, and I don't mean maybe.

"I was asked to box Tom in a four-round exhibition and thought the bout was a joke," Corbett added. "I did no especial training and ate a shrimp salad the evening of the bout. As we started off it promised to be nothing more or less than a workout. Sharkey, short and thick of build, kept rushing at me and I had no trouble belting him with left hand punches at will.

"The same was true in the second round, but at the end of that session, when I had him punched dizzy, I began to taste that salad and became sick to my stomach. I told my chief second, Billy Delaney, and he advised me to keep away from Sharkey and everything would be all right.

"OVER in the other corner, smart Spider Kelly was seconding Sharkey. He feared the Sailor was on the verge of a knockout and wanted to prevent it, so, I afterward learned, he sent him out to rough me up and even attempt to throw me out of the ring. Tom rushed at me with his head down, and, as I backed to the ropes, he crashed full into me, driving his head into my sick stomach. He tried his utmost to force me through the ropes, and, failing, grabbed me and wrestled and spun me to the floor in the center of the ring. I fell with a crash. And that wasn't all. Tom followed up by throwing the referee on top of me, and he landed full weight on that same sick stomach.

"Did the referee, a friend of mine, by the way, stop that fight and give it to me on a foul, as any referee would in these days? He did not. Instead, he helped me up and told us to continue fighting. When the bell rang ending the third round I was a very sick man as I turned to my corner. And I was the champion of the world fighting what had promised to be a set-up in an exhibition bout!

"There was nothing to do but to try to stick it out, and I came up for the fourth round and attempted to keep out of range of the rushing Sharkey. But I was so sick I saw I couldn't last, and, in a clinch, I gave Delaney the high sign for help. The chief of police, another friend of mine, was sitting behind Delaney, and he thought I was signaling him, so he jumped up and stopped the fight. They called it a draw. I breathed a sigh of relief when it was over. What a narrow escape!"

Corbett fought Sharkey one other time, in New York, two years later, and lost on a foul in the ninth round when one of his seconds entered the ring.

THAT first meeting with Sharkey taught Gentleman Jim a valuable lesson about condition. Never again did he permit himself to hold an opponent lightly and fail to prepare properly for him.

"Condition is gameness," Corbett said in summing up the matter. "Oftentimes we hear the crowd admiring a man for his gameness in taking a beating, when, as a matter of fact, it is his condition that permits him to stand up under the hard going. A man who lacks condition cannot be game, because he simply cannot 'take it' under those conditions."

That's just about so, isn't it?

ENDURANCE for the Long Climb

OF COURSE your new car will climb—the new models have more hill-climbing power than ever. But more power and speed mean more heat and friction. Antiquated hit-or-miss lubricating methods wont do for the modern motor.

New-car owners are beginning to realize the wonderful endurance of Waverly All-Pennsylvania Motor Oil. It will save you real money in less rapid depreciation and lower repair bills.

If you want your new car to retain its youthful pep and power, use an oil that retains its lubricating value—that's just common sense, and the secret of "more miles per quart."

EX-YANK IN DRAW

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—Jack Smith, former major league baseball player, and Pietro Corri, Italian heavyweight, battled 10 rounds to a draw here last night. Smith weighed 216; Corri, 191.

BRITISHER ON HEELS OF U. S. RUNNER

BRIDGEPORT, Okla., April 12.—(AP.)—Holding his lead in the cross country foot race as it approaches his home town of Claremore, Okla., Andrew Payne again raced a dead heat with Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, his most persistent runner up.

Yesterday's run from Clinton to Bridgeport, 35.4 miles, was negotiated by Payne and Gavuzzi in 5 hours 28 minutes and 30 seconds. Tuesday the two men came in together after a 50-mile run in 8 hours 21 minutes 40 seconds.

Payne's elapsed time of 240:32:29 for the 1,421 miles from Los Angeles gives him approximately an hour and 25 minutes lead over Gavuzzi, who has pressed him for first place since the runners entered Oklahoma three days ago.

In third place more than 20 hours behind the leaders was John Salo, Passaic, N. J., who also finished third in yesterday's run. His time for yesterday was 5:55:28, with an elapsed time of 260:37:52.

Earl Dilks, of New Castle, Pa., lagged behind yesterday. His elapsed time to Clinton was 341:38:16.

The runners and walkers turned toward Elreno today, 35 miles east of here. Another 35 miles tomorrow will put them in Oklahoma City.

PIRATES

long as Alexander can throw the ball into a tincup from slab to catcher, he'll be a dangerous bomber for any club.

BUCS LOOK BAD

Our boys were a sad lot in spots of the opener, but the Redbirds were not the best-looking team in the league by any means. When the battle ended the home team was on the cheering side of a 14-7 game, the football score being partly the result of football tactics on both sides. The Bushwhackers where charged with four errors and the Cards slipped twice.

The Pirates were made to resemble semi-pros through the loose defense thrown up against the base-stealing tactics of the Cards, who worked a double steal without much effort as well as a clean theft of second by Frankie Frisch, one of the big stars of the contest.

Frisch hammered out a homer and a couple of doubles. He cracked his doubles while swinging left-handed and reserved his four-sacker for his right-hand swing. This drive was a lulu and dropped into the left field bleachers. Jim Bottomley sank a round-tripper into the right field seats and Sunny Jim had a double and a single for good measure.

PIRATES HIT WELL

The one bright feature of the Pirates' play was evidenced in their punch. Out-scored two to one, they just about matched the batting slate of their opponents. Boots Grantham led the big parade of safe sockers with four blows; Paul Waner socked for a double and two singles, while Brother Lloyd and Glenn Wright smashed out a pair of safeties, one of Wright's being a two-sacker. Glenn had another close to the home-run zone, where it was gathered in by Wallie Roettger.

Neither Haines nor Remy Kremer appeared to be in top form. The fears of Donie Bush and his assistants were realized so far as the Pirate pitching was concerned. Kremer apparently did not have his stuff—if he did, McKechnie or somebody else must have had his signs, for the Redbirds certainly were teeing off on the clever Frenchman.

It was a real ball game for five rounds, despite the three-run jump off achieved by the Cardinals in the first frame. The Pirates fought back in a spunky manner, but they cracked in the sixth when the home boys rushed across six tallies to remove the result from the doubtful stage.

Kremer passed out of the picture in the fifth. Jim Bottomley hit a two-run homer off Ray in the Cards' half and Fred Brickell batted for Frenchy in the sixth. The departure of the veteran gave Lester Lefty Bartholomew his opportunity for major-league action.

The big boy from Oklahoma had been a big headliner in the spring training games, but in his debut he ran into misfortune. Lester was hit freely and he was wild.

Glenn Spencer made his big league start while the Redbirds were shelling the other youngster. Spencer did a good job of relief work, but Glenn Wright booted two in succession in the eighth which opened the way for two more Redbird tallies. The Pirate attack got busy in the late rounds, but Haines had a safe lead on which to dally.

Most Communities Have a Real Leader: One Instance.

By B. C. FORBES

WHY do some men become the recognized leaders in their community or in their line of work?

When you travel throughout the country you find that in certain towns and cities there is some one man whom the people unanimously agree is the most dynamic, the most useful citizen.

When you get to know such men, you sometimes wonder why they do not move to our largest cities and there make their mark in a larger field. You discover, usually, that they have had invitations to do so. But they explain that they are happy where they are, that their roots have gone down too deep to be pulled up.

An instance of this kind has just come to my notice.

One of the men who did much to develop Tulsa into the most progressive city in Oklahoma was Harry H. Rogers. His early career savored of the fairy-story order. At the height of his power he was obliged, in the interest of the health of a member of his family, to move to San Antonio. That was more than eight years ago. He soon began doing big things in the largest city in Texas, but now he returns to Tulsa as president of the largest bank in the state, amid the rejoicing of the whole community.

THIS typically American business-romance, this story of success outside a metropolitan city, is told most interestingly by the Tulsa Tribune, which says that "success always seems very simple after a talk with him."

These are a few acts from this inspiring drama of life and achievements in America:

"Though he has been away from Tulsa for almost a decade Mr. Rogers, the new president of the Exchange National Bank, has visited here so often and has been such a potent factor in civic affairs always that he is better known today than many who have lived here lifetimes.

"Then, too, he made such an impression when he did live here that it has never been erased. He served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, regent of the University of Oklahoma, president of the Oklahoma Bar Association, chairman of the district exemption board during the war, took a leading part in the religious life of the community that went far beyond his membership in the First Christian Church.

"He has just completed a term as president of the Rotary International, and he was decorated by the King of Belgium for his service in the international good-will cause while in that office. This broad service had its genesis while he was a member of the Tulsa Rotary Club. Rotary principles were his business principles and to these he always attributed much of his success. He is a prominent Mason and a member of the Elks.

"HE started life as a country school teacher and became one of the country's noted oil and Indian land lawyers and a millionaire at 40. He never saw the real inside of a university until he was chosen special lecturer on oil and gas law at the University of Oklahoma. There were few important law cases in the early Oklahoma oil fields in which he did not figure as attorney. Since then he has figured as investor and counsellor in many of the important oil and other business enterprises of the Southwest.

"Whatever success he has attained he has always wished to attribute to the fact that he associated and identified himself with men who do things. Success always seems very simple after a talk with him, because there is such an absence of the ego element in all he says. His principal suggestion to the young men of today is that, since it is safe to assume that 'bad company' has worked the undoing of many a promising youth, association with 'good company' or men who do things, will have the opposite effect.

"PRIVATELY he helps youngsters through school and into business or the professions in numbers. Perhaps this is his principal work outside of his own business, and at times it has been given more attention than business.

"He is 51 now, but he goes into each new task as though it were his first and last, injecting into it consummate skill and accuracy. In everything he does there is a touch of finality, of completeness."

TO such men, of whom there is at least one in many if not most communities, does America in a large measure owe her place in the world today. Not resources, but men make a nation.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 12.—The cotton market opened barely steady today at a decline of 2 to 5 points and showed net losses of 6 to 8 points in early trading under liquidation by recent buyers, combined with local and southern selling on a more favorable view of weather conditions in the South.

Some Liverpool buying here, presumably against sales in that market at the wider differences, with covering, absorbed early offerings on the decline to 19.60c for May and 19.31c for October, but forenoon prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

The Liverpool market eased off after the local opening. Private cables attributed the early firmness there to London and continental buying on the strength of the market for Egyptian cotton at Alexandria, but said the cotton cloth turnover in Manchester was disappointing.

The market was quiet later, with fluctuations correspondingly narrow. The bulges seemed to meet further liquidation, encouraged by the reports of clearing weather, with higher temperatures in the Southwest and the favorable Eastern belt forecast. Liverpool was a fair buyer, and there was some covering of commission house demand on the dips. After selling off to 19.46c for July, there was some covering of commission house demand on the dips. After selling off to 19.46c for July, prices rallied a few points. At midday active months were about 4 to 6 points net lower.

CHAOS REIGNS WHEN STOCKS ABOUT FACE

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—A sweeping advance in stock prices which carried scores of issues up 1 to 10 points in the early trading was checked around mid-day by profit-taking. Orders piled into the market in such large volume that the ticker fell 45 minutes behind the market before the end of the third hour, causing widespread confusion in brokerage houses throughout the country. Sales averaged around a million shares an hour during the early part of the session.

Call money renewed at 5½ per cent but the volume of loanable funds reached such large proportions that the rate fell to 5 percent shortly after mid-day. This helped to stimulate bullish enthusiasm despite the fact that time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

General Motors, after advancing to within a fraction of the record high of 199 established a few weeks ago, fell below 196 on realizing sales. First quarter earnings were estimated today at $70,000,000, equivalent to $4 a share on the common stock. United States Steel opened at 154, a new high record, and then sold off about 2 points in profit taking. Radio broke 6 points below last night's close and a dozen others sold 2 to 4 points below last night's final quotations.

Meanwhile pool operations were conducted with increased vigor in scores of low and medium-priced specialties. The list of new high records included such widely assorted issues as American Ice, American Republics, Bethlehem Steel, Atlantic Refining, Continental Motors, Mullins and Briggs Bodies, Graham-Paige Motors, National Dairy Products, Third Avenue Railway, Cerro de Pasco Copper, Southern Dairies A and B and Sweets Company of America.

ROBBERS SHOOT OHIO RECLUSE

BELLAIRE, O., April 12.—Thomas McMannus, 80, wealthy recluse residing several miles west of town was shot three times in the abdomen by two burglars early today at his home. He resisted the pair. After the shooting he dragged himself a mile to a neighbor's home. He is in Bellaire Hospital and cannot recover, physicians say.

CARNEGIE STEEL CO. TO ERECT HOOP MILL

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 12.—Building of the proposed 10-inch hoop mill at the McDonald plant of the Carnegie Steel Company has been authorized. The unit will cost something like $1,000,000 and add about 250 to the pay roll at McDonald. The mill will have in addition a hoop finishing unit, calling for a larger working force than any of the other mills now operating at McDonald. The present working force is 1,750 and with the addition will exceed 2,000.

CASH REGISTER TOTERS JAILED BY HILL POLICE

Detected lugging a cash register in Wylie avenue early today, James Davis, 26, and Elvin Pestis, 26, Negroes, of 1322 Wylie avenue, were arrested. They admitted, police say, that they had stolen the register from the St. Louis Restaurant at 1421 Wylie avenue. They found the register locked and decided to take it home with them, police said.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—Trading in the bond market today centered around the New York tractions and some semi-speculative issues, with prices firm.

St. Paul Adjustment 5s were bought in large amounts, gaining more than a point. Anaconda and Andes Copper 7s continued moderately active around yesterday's closing quotations. Bethlehem Steel 6s invaded new high territory, but some of the other high-grade issues were inclined to heaviness. A small amount of buying lifted General Asphalt 6s 2 points to 112.

New York Railways Income 6s and Third Avenue Adjustment 5s both moved to new tops, while the Interborough Rapid Transit issues hovered around their previous highs.

Mexican 4s moved to a new high at 28. Kingdom of Italy 7s turned heavy, but the foreign group generally was firm.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

WIDOW RENOMINATED FOR ILLINOIS SHERIFF

CHICAGO, April 12.—(AP.)—A widow who became sheriff of DeKalb county when her husband, then sheriff, died last fall, today was receiving congratulations for having defeated three male opponents in Tuesday's balloting. She is Mrs. Helen Dolder.

She showed her ability to handle emergencies last winter when she quelled a prisoners' riot with a fire hose and cold water.

She conducted no campaign. "I merely treat guilty and innocent alike with consideration," she said.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Easier Money Helps Bulls.

General Motors and Steel common, the invincible leaders of the current bull market got away to a strong start this morning, but the wide upward spread of their early gains attracted sufficient selling to bring about a sizeable setback before the end of the first hour. The sources of this selling was somewhat doubtful, but careful observers expressed the opinion that it did not come from the strong interests which have been operating on the long side of Motors for the past six weeks. The reaction in the leaders did not carry through into a sharp decline and there appeared to be steady support right under the market at all times. Bulls were aided by developments in the money market, where the call rate, after opening at 5½ per cent, receded to 5 early in the afternoon. Yesterday's call rate of 6 per cent brought in heavy supplies of cash from out-of-town banks as well as from institutional lenders and the general tone of the call money market was considerably easier. Bulls on General Motors spoke of the coming report for the first quarter, which they expect will make a sensational showing, and most of them are confident of a generous extra dividend. Steel's friends say that the big corporation will report earnings well above what many observers anticipated a few weeks ago.

Rumor Schwab Buying "Bessie."

The Street heard a report today that buying by Charles M. Schwab was the main factor in the advance of Bethlehem Steel shares in yesterday's market. The stock held the gain today and was in fair demand the greater part of the session. The rumor about Mr. Schwab arose from the fact that he was in the Wall Street district yesterday, his mere presence being enough to start the rumor mill going, especially in these days of stock market pyrotechnics.

WIDOW LUNGES AT SUSPECT

While a crowd of neighbors looked on, Mrs. Marie Spehar attempted to attack Tony Marino, confessed slayer of her husband, John Spehar, late yesterday when the crime was re-enacted in the yard of the Spehar home, 4520 Stanton avenue.

Weeping and with fists clenched, Mrs. Spehar sprang at Marino, but Detective Jerry Deasy intervened. Later the widow took part in the re-enactment which was snapped by the city photographer.

Marino showed how he and Charles Bower, now serving a term in Western Penitentiary, are alleged to have held up and shot Spehar in his garage the night of March 4. Carl Lucas and Frank Skalski sprang on the running board of an automobile occupied by Mrs. Spehar, depicting how they had sought to still her cries.

The four men were held for the murder in Morals Court yesterday.

SALESMAN AND $4,000 GONE

An automobile in which Harry Cohen, 36, is alleged to have disappeared last night with $4,000 in jewelry and house furnishings belonging to the Wixson Sales Company, McKeesport, was found abandoned in Smithfield street this morning.

No trace was found of Cohen, for whom county detectives, city and state police are seeking. An information charging him with larceny was made before Alderman Robert Calhoun, McKeesport, by E. D. Wixson. Cohen is said by Wixson to have failed to return with the company's machine and supplies last night. Wixson said Cohen left with a young woman.

WITHEROWS AT NEW HIGHS

Stocks displayed a generally strong tone on the Pittsburgh exchange today with the recent trading favorites making moderate gains over the previous closings.

Trading in Lone Star Gas was at slightly higher figures in the forenoon session, with sellers continuing to hold off their sales in expectation of further improvement in the shares which have been tending upward for the past three weeks. The company recently sold new stock to the shareholders on the basis of one new share at $25 for each three shares held.

Consolidated Ice preferred appeared on the board this morning for the first time in several weeks. The price was unchanged from the last previous sale at 26. Miscellaneous manufacturing issues were firm, but advances were confined to fractions during the early session. Witherow Steel preferred scored a further gain of 72 in the initial dealings, a new high record for the shares.

The Witherow Steel issues made further new highs with buyers forced to bid two points up on each issue before attracting sales. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt was steady around the previous session's close as was Union Steel Castings. The building stocks were dull.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 12.—With buying on a broad scale, wheat scored substantial new price gains today after wavering at the start. July and September deliveries of wheat topped once more all quotations heretofore this season, and trade continued to center on prospects of only a scant crop of domestic winter wheat. Opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, wheat subsequently rose all around to well above yesterday's finish. Corn and oats developed weakness. Provisions were about steady.

Much of the fresh buying in the wheat market today appeared to be based on assertions that crop damage in the middle west is irreparable. There was also talk that it would be an unusual season if winter wheat in the west and southwest should come through in a manner to offset the injury which has been set forth by the government report concerning the winter crop as a whole.

Realizing of profits for holders was the case generally ascribed as responsible for hesitancy which the wheat market showed today in the earlier dealings. As soon as prices began to ascend vigorously, however, speculative sellers made haste to change to the buying side. Reports of rapid progress of spring wheat seeding northwest failed to exert any great influence as a bear factor.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—Heavy buying over a broad list today gave the curb market what at midday promised to be the biggest trading day in its history. Trading was in such enormous volume that the ticker was more than a half hour behind the market. The upward movement appeared to be a continuation of yesterday's rise and in sympathy with the bullish demonstration on the "big board."

Creole Petroleum was lifted to 14¾, a new high, on a turnover of more than 50,000 shares. Buying appeared to be inspired by announcement the company plans extensive expansion. Pantepec, Prairie, Penn Mex Fuel, Standard of Kansas and Tidal Osage non-voting also reached new peaks. The pipe lines also were strong.

Wire Wheel, moving to new high ground at 35½, led the rise of the moto. accessory issues. At one time the press of orders necessitated a conference and nearly 50,000 shares had changed hands at noon, the activity of the stock being based on a Federal Court decision granting the company a preliminary injunction restraining sale of wire wheels on certain motor cars in Chicago and the seventh federal district. Marmon Motors advanced about 2 points to a new high at 49¼, accompanied by Warner Gear, Bendix A, Caterpillar Tractor, Checker Cab and others. Acme Steel, Aluminum Company, Industrial Rayon, Mead Johnson, Nichols & Shepherd and Ruberoid were among others to invade new high territory. Deere & Co., British Celanese, Celotex and a few others sagged under profit-taking.

The utilities showed group strength, many issues reaching new high ground, led by Puget Sound, Southeastern Power, American Superpower and United Light and Power A.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP.)—The market for raw sugars was quiet and easy. There were reports that 7,000 bags of Philippines had been sold in port to a local refiner at 4.40c delivered, equal to 2⅝c C and F, and 14,000 bags of Cuban afloat to a local refiner at a refinery at 2 21-32c, equal to 4.43c delivered, and 4,500 bags of Cubas for prompt shipment to an operator at 2 21-32c C and F.

The market for sugar futures seemed to reflect the easier tone to raws and after opening at 1 to 2 points lower, prices were barely steady under selling credited to the trade and further May liquidation. The volume of offers was not great, however, and it was thought that the conditions in the raw market reflected an absence of demand more than any real pressure from producers. Some attention was given to the American government report indicating a larger peach crop this season which was believed to have a bearing on the fruit canning industry.

New buying in the refined sugar market continued quiet and prices were unchanged at 5.95 to 6.00c for fine granulated. Withdrawals were fair.

A SATISFIED CLIENT

Every realtor knows the value of a satisfied client.

There is no better way to create satisfaction in a real estate deal than to assure the client he is buying "Safe"—and to be able to know that there will be no chance of a possible title defect causing a future tangle difficult for the realtor to straighten out.

Only with TITLE INSURANCE is "safe" buying possible.

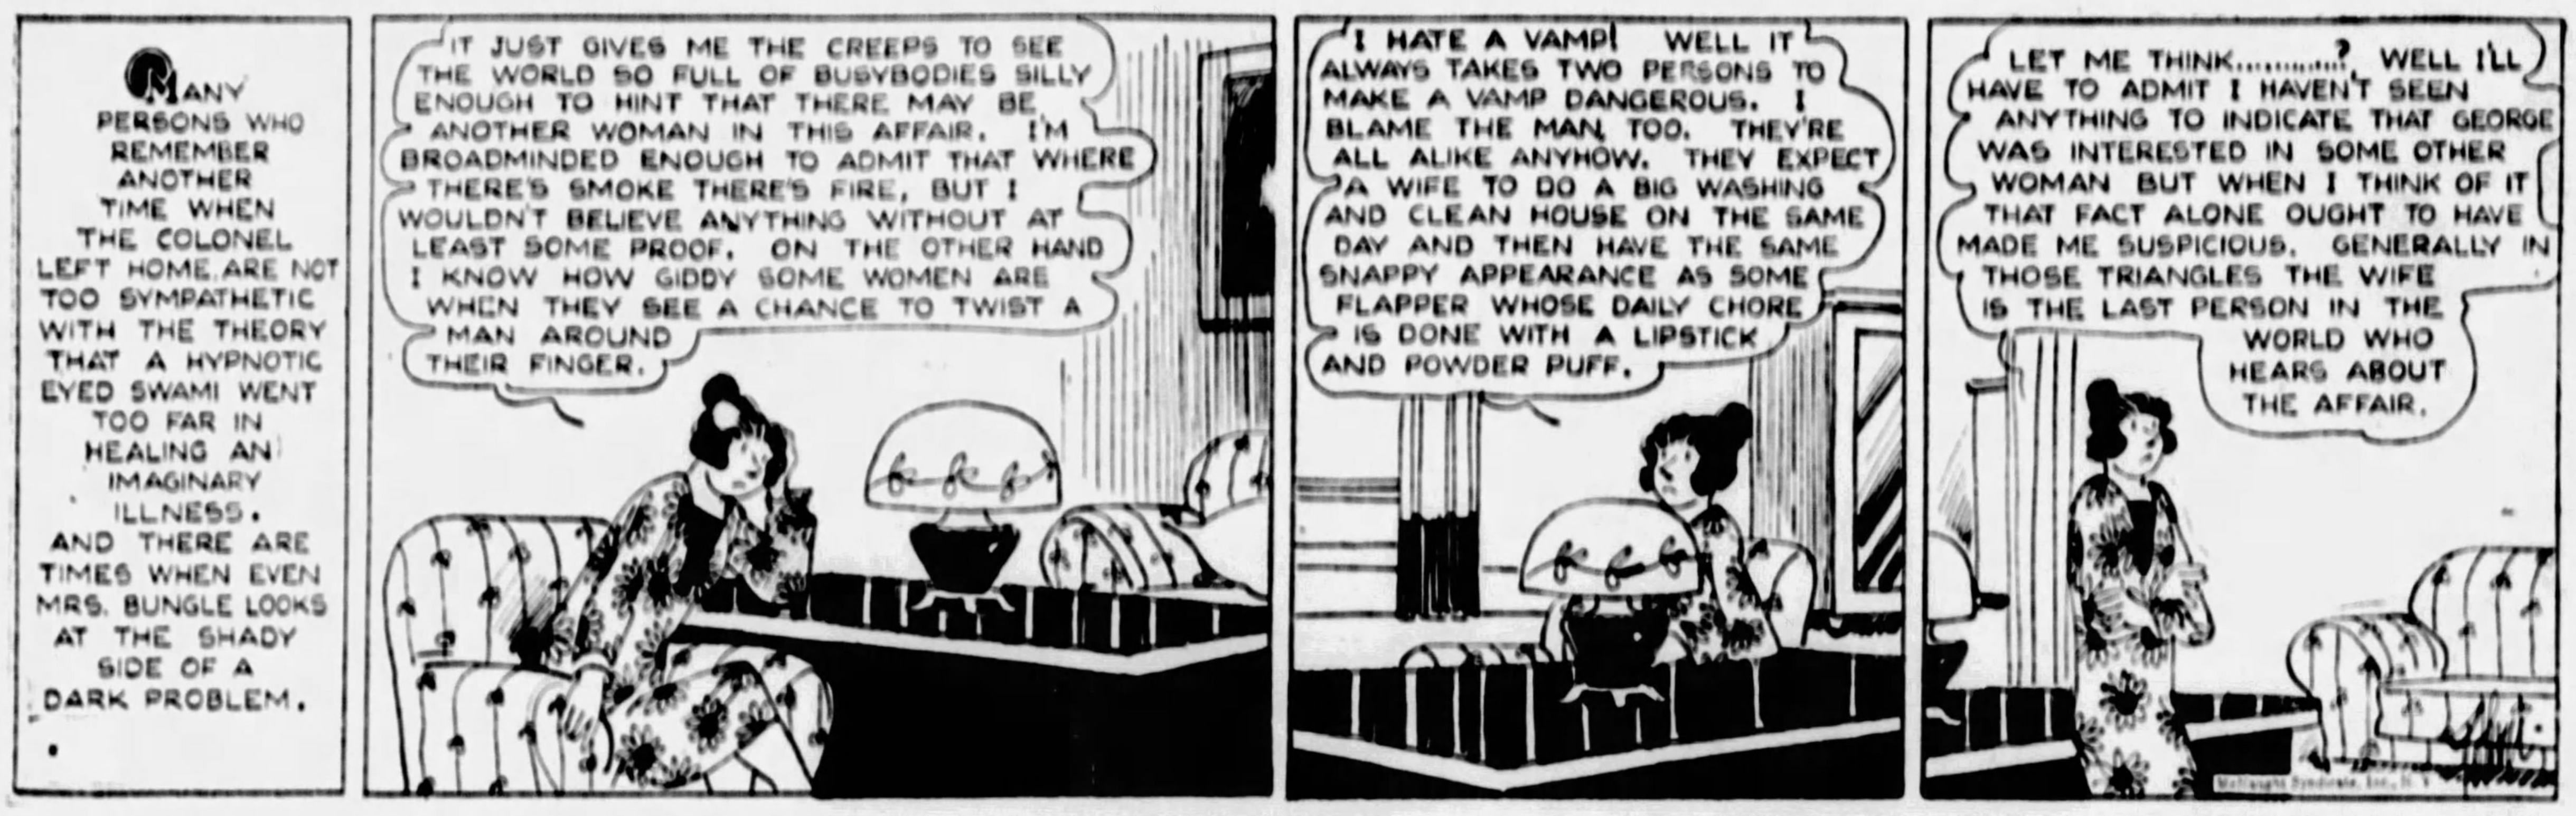
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

The Goats' Choice



MANY PERSONS WHO REMEMBER ANOTHER TIME WHEN THE COLONEL LEFT HOME, ARE NOT TOO SYMPATHETIC WITH THE THEORY THAT A HYPNOTIC EYED SWAMI WENT TOO FAR IN HEALING AN IMAGINARY ILLNESS. AND THERE ARE TIMES WHEN EVEN MRS. BUNGLE LOOKS AT THE SHADY SIDE OF A DARK PROBLEM.
IT JUST GIVES ME THE CREEPS TO SEE THE WORLD SO FULL OF BUSYBODIES SILLY ENOUGH TO HINT THAT THERE MAY BE ANOTHER WOMAN IN THIS AFFAIR. I'M BROADMINDED ENOUGH TO ADMIT THAT WHERE THERE'S SMOKE THERE'S FIRE, BUT I WOULDN'T BELIEVE ANYTHING WITHOUT AT LEAST SOME PROOF. ON THE OTHER HAND I KNOW HOW GIDDY SOME WOMEN ARE WHEN THEY SEE A CHANCE TO TWIST A MAN AROUND THEIR FINGER.
I HATE A VAMP! WELL IT ALWAYS TAKES TWO PERSONS TO MAKE A VAMP DANGEROUS. I BLAME THE MAN, TOO. THEY'RE ALL ALIKE ANYHOW. THEY EXPECT A WIFE TO DO A BIG WASHING AND CLEAN HOUSE ON THE SAME DAY AND THEN HAVE THE SAME SNAPPY APPEARANCE AS SOME FLAPPER WHOSE DAILY CHORE IS DONE WITH A LIPSTICK AND POWDER PUFF.
LET ME THINK..........? WELL I'LL HAVE TO ADMIT I HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING TO INDICATE THAT GEORGE WAS INTERESTED IN SOME OTHER WOMAN BUT WHEN I THINK OF IT THAT FACT ALONE OUGHT TO HAVE MADE ME SUSPICIOUS. GENERALLY IN THOSE TRIANGLES THE WIFE IS THE LAST PERSON IN THE WORLD WHO HEARS ABOUT THE AFFAIR.

YOU WAITED A LONG TIME FOR YOUR LESSON — I'M SORRY THOUGH THAT I WASN'T YOUR INSPIRATION YEARS AGO BUT I GUESS I WOULDN'T HAVE IMPRESSED YOU THEN — I FAILED TO WITH MY FATHER — IT'S HARD TO UNDERSTAND HOW PEOPLE CAN BRING MISERY AND UNHAPPINESS TO OTHERS BY THEIR WEAKNESS OF CHARACTER AND EVERYTHING IS ROSY NOW
I WAS ALMOST READY TO TELL HER MY STORY WHEN SHE SAID SHE WAS HAPPY BECAUSE I WAS INNOCENT — BUT SHE KILLED IT ALL WHEN SHE TALKED OF WEAKNESS OF CHARACTER — MINE HAS BEEN WEAKER THAN A SICK BUTTERFLY — HOW COULD ANYONE HAVE SYMPATHY OR RESPECT FOR ME? I HAVEN'T IT FOR MYSELF
TO OUR READERS WHO CAME LATE - FLINT DISCOVERED SINCE HIS ARRIVAL IN NORTHVILLE THAT MISS BLACK IS HIS DAUGHTER WHOM HE DESERTED IN HER INFANCY — BUT THIS IS NOT KNOWN TO HER — AND BY THE WAY BLACK AND FLINT ARE BOTH ASSUMED NAMES

Good Record in Traffic Deaths Can Be Bettered

In the first three months of the year only one child was killed in a traffic accident, according to a compilation of coroner's records by the Better Traffic Committee. It also is announced that in February and March no child met death in a traffic accident.

It is a record to be proud of, but there could be a better one—a record of three months in which no child lost its life in the streets. That is the mark we must aim at. To achieve it means unusual care and watchfulness. It means greater care on the part of the driver of an automobile and greater care on the part of parents and those having charge of children.

January, February and March are months when children do not play much in the streets except to coast. During the warmer months kiddies live outdoors, and extra precautions to protect their lives should be taken. Drivers must be especially on their guard. The little ones should be taught that playing in the streets is extremely dangerous.

If everyone does his part it will be possible to have three summer months that will have a better record than the first three months of the year. We ourselves have the say in the matter—what will it be?

Boy Pays as He's Paid; Let's Help the Boys' Club

Pittsburgh business men behind a campaign to raise $200,000 for the purpose of transforming the former Lawrenceville Y. M. C. A. into a boys' club are backing a project that is worthy of support. Anything that is done for the boy has the effect of shaping the character of the man. Men, to a large extent, are made by environment. There is nothing hard and fast about it. Many good men rise from poor environment, and some bad ones descend from the best. Yet external things do mold character, and everybody recognizes the fact that a boy should grow up under wholesome influences if he is to become a good and useful citizen.

For that reason the boys' club should be established with funds adequate to insure the prosecution of the work it has set out to do. Give the boy a chance. Do not continue to force him into waywardness through lack of opportunity to go in the other direction. He will repay one way or another, no matter what we do for him, so let us do something good.

Beautiful? Yes

MOST BEAUTIFUL? No.

A BEAUTIFUL CHILD.

First, you should be told that this child is a boy, not a girl. A British advertisement prints the picture and calls it "The World's Most Beautiful Child." The handsome, childish face and beautifully developed young body will interest mothers. Fortunately, each of them will insist that her child is MORE beautiful than this one.

The human race progresses because every mother believes her baby is a wonder and gives to the child full love, devotion and ambition.

Studying the face of this child offered for comment in a public advertisement, it is interesting to speculate on the boy's probable future. You would hardly expect a Gladstone, a Nelson, a Carlyle, Spencer or Darwin to develop from this lovely boy.

There is such a thing as being TOO beautiful, too soft and delicate.

There is [illegible]ness in this young face. If the hair were brushed back [illegible] the forehead, as it should be, you [illegible]ow well developed and promising. [illegible] as a great handicap. The ugly man thinks less of himself and more of things that are more important. And women are less inclined to help him make a fool of himself.

This is a charming little British boy, and everybody will wish him all possible happiness. But there are in existence, not far from him, boys with plain, little faces, snub-noses, sharp knees, warts on their hands, freckles on their faces, that will far surpass this handsome child. Let that be your comfort, if your small boy lacks 99 per cent of the qualities of a professional beauty—as he probably does.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Man's Telltale Foot

LOOK at your feet, and—drop your plumes like the peacock in case they make you ashamed of your ancestry. The best proof that our forebears once dwelt in trees is to be found in the pedal extremities.

Remember in the first place that man is a mammal, but not a primitive mammal. He came much later upon the stage. Now, the primitive mammals, says Dr. Dudley J. Morton in the American Journal of Physical Anthropology, were quadrupeds, and from that state of four-footedness three types of two-footed locomotion have been evolved. These are (1) the semi-erect cursorial (running) type of the ancient reptiles and bird life; (2) the leaping bipedism of the kangaroo, tarsius, etc.; (3) the erect cursorial type, of which man is the highest representative.

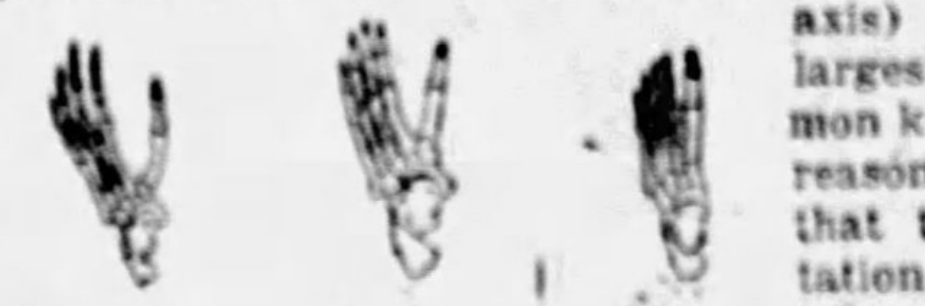
Now again comparative anatomy shows that in the terrestrial (ground-dwelling) mammals the primitive functional axis, or leverage axis, ran through the middle of the foot. But "at some time in pre-human history the functional axis became transferred from the middle to the inner border of the foot." This transference, with the unusual length and development of the inner border, is "the most distinctive character of the human foot."

What is the meaning of that? No adequate explanation has been found except that "the human foot passed through an ancient grasping stage, such as has been preserved in existing anthropoids."

Note, too, the following statement: "The occasional presence of this character (the transposed position of axis) in only the largest New-World monkeys gives reason to believe that this transportation did not develop in the ancient anthropoid stock until its representatives had gained considerably in size; also that the pre-human representatives were not of small stature when this change occurred in their feet."



The Tale of the Foot

To cut the story short, it appears that in his altogether prehuman state man was at first a ground dweller, and had feet after the terrestrial mammalian type. Then, after attaining a considerable stature, he fled up into the trees—was it a flight for refuge inspired by terror, or a migration in search of food or shelter? Whatever the cause may have been, this creature was not yet human and had no psychology. Its foot, which was to develop into the human foot, had its axis shifted toward the inner edge to meet the needs of grasping and climbing. All the anthropoid types show this shifting, so they must all have begun on the ground.

But the time came when they got down to the ground again. It was after this descent that the real human type began its evolution.

A glance at the three figures here will make clearer what we are talking about. The prehuman creature that became man got down out of the trees to stay down. This resulted, through the effects of terrestrial locomotion, in dearrangement of the bones of his feet and especially in the lengthening and strengthening of the inner border, before spoken of. The gorilla foot shows an approximation of the readjustment of the human foot for terrestrial life because many gorillas have long lived mostly on the ground. The chimpanzee foot retains more of the arboreal grasping type because the chimpanzee more completely retains the tree living habits.

A very significant statement in this evolution story is this: "In freeing man's arms from the function of locomotion, bipedism favored a wider scope of interdependent action between the hands and the brain."

Once Overs

Try This in Legato

HAVE you allowed yourself to get in such a state that all your answers are staccato?

You snap at the newsboy, your bootblack, the conductor.

You jump on your office boy and snarl at your clerk.

You think you can create an appearance of active business by keeping those around you in a state of turmoil.

Stabs and blows don't get you co-operation!

Service, through fear, is no service at all.

You know that saying about keeping the good-will of a dog.

It might do you some good to think a bit about that proverb, because you don't want the dog to bite you, should you relax vigilance.

Then your health suffers, when you are keyed up to the last ditch.

You cannot do straight thinking and effective planning.

Your thoughts are too hurried to get below the surface.

Suppose you run away for a few days and think it over.

Relax, take a few long breaths, and you will see the folly of your nervous, snappy, business technique.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Let Us Be Friends

LET us be friends. Not to the few
Whom rank and tastes conspire to bring,
Through common hopes and aims in view,
Within an all-too-narrow ring.

Some plants seek but one soil alone
And there to fragrant bloom attain;
But if in other gardens grown,
All odorless and frail remain.

Let not our friendship be like these,
Within set boundaries confined;
But like tall, rugged cedar trees
That brave the elements unkind.

Let us be friends where need we see,
In mighty men or sons of toil;
Our friendship growing like a tree
That flourishes in every soil.

CAUSE AND EFFECT—So many American college students are going bareheaded that many hatmakers are going barefooted.

Tales that are Told

With Flying Colors

A RUGBY player desired to join the staff of a technical college connected with one of the Services. The college wished to have him for his sporting prowess, but it was considered doubtful if he could pass the oral examination for entrance.

A sympathetic instructor was given the task of examining.

"What is ordinarily used as a conductor of electricity?" he asked.

"Why—er—" stammered the man of brawn.

"Very good—wire," interrupted the instructor.

"And what is the unity of electrical power?"

"The what, sir?" asked the would-be entrant.

"Correct. The watt. You've passed."

The Symptoms

THERE was a sound of revelry by night, for the Newcomes were having a musical evening.

Newcome was singing a song entitled, "'Tis Love That Makes the World Go Round," and his son and heir seized the opportunity of trying his father's pipe. Some time later it was observed that the boy was looking ill, and his mother attempted to comfort him.

"What is the matter?" she cried. "Have you been smoking, or something?"

"No," answered the boy. "But if there's any truth in that song father's singing, I must be in love."

Taking His Turn

A MAN offered shelter overnight by a Kentucky mountaineer was puzzled to know where he was to lay his weary head in a one-room cabin already harboring a good-sized family.

He watched with interest as his host's wife tucked away the six children two at a time in the one bed, removing them to a place on the floor as soon as they were asleep.

"Your bed is now ready for you," said the head of the house. The tired man was soon in slumberland. When he awoke in the morning he was on the floor with the children, and the parents held possession of the bed.

Down on the Farm

SCENE: A farmhouse. The new boy was eating his first dinner there.

"Will tha 'ave more meat, John?" asked the old farmer, as he carved at the head of the table.

"Yes, please," answered the boy.

"What does tha say?" roared the farmer, glaring fiercely at the boy.

"No, thank you."

"Thats reet. I like a lad as can speak up for 'isself."—London Tit-Bits.

Something New

THEY were about to film the most thrilling part of the drama. The hero, a dashing, fair-haired Apollo, was suspended over a high cliff by a rope.

Suddenly the camera man seemed doubtful.

"Look here," he said, "suppose the rope happens to break?"

The producer, a man ever on the lookout for new stunts, dropped his megaphone.

"My word, George," he exclaimed, "you've said it at last! That's a great idea!"

Man and Culture

THE average male American has been accused of holding his religion and culture, as the more fearful holds property, in the wife's name.

Women yet surpass men in church attendance and devotion, but the masculine sex is picking up in culture.

One concert manager testified that whereas, twenty years ago, men formed only a fifth of the attendance at high class concerts, today the sex division is fifty fifty. Even at art museums and exhibits man is headed for the lead.

There are two possible explanations for the change. One, that men really are finding joy in the finer expressions of the human spirit. The other, that the entry of women into business is giving man something of the leisure of which woman once had the monopoly. And leisure, as we all know, is the condition precedent to culture.

Then there is the revolutionary influence of the radio dial. It makes escape from culture impossible.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 12.—A rather distinct species of the female in New York is the "party girl." She helps in her blithe way to ameliorate the loneliness that besets visiting gentlemen here to close the contract or finish other pressing affairs.

She is a flashy type who manages to skirt that invisible line separating the upper from the underworld. Her overtone is slightly blatant and she holds her liquor well. She is the sort with forthright blandishments who can come into a room and know everybody instantly. One of those "Hello Everybody" persons.

She radiates a hilarity and certain something that impels the visitor to be rather inclined to make a night of it. As frank as she is, she offers a bit of mystery. She prefers to be known just as Peggy or Flo and is careful to create the impression of being just a pal of the evening. No monkey-doodles!

Her night haunt knowledge is profound. She knows the exact time gaiety reaches its climax at this rendezvous and that. And she is adept at piloting merrymakers to a quaint nook at sun-up for tasty bacon and eggs and a head-clearing cup of coffee.

Like the night, she vanishes, too, with dawn. If you have been a good sport and slipped a golden note or so in her evening bag she will give you her telephone number. Otherwise she does not care to see you again. Money is never discussed. You are supposed to know a gal must live.

She has gambled her time against the hope of a financial reward. And if she loses, well, there are other nights, other strangers seeking a night out. Every man whose business requires him to entertain has a telephone list of "party girls."

Their chief asset is being known as safe. If a playmate for the evening happened to run across one of them next day while in the company of his wife and tried to speak to her he would be snubbed. The art of blackmail is left for her more dangerous sisters. She has a less dangerous credo.

New York hotels, incidentally, are frowning on the party. Aside from the noise, the damage to furnishings has become a little too heavy. The management now has a way of putting the lid on hilarity. They point to the fact that furnishing accessories for making drinks is against the law and they refuse further room service when whoopers grow too whoopish.

There are, police estimate, some 10,000 amateur correspondence school detectives in New York. Every crime of a mysterious nature attracts them as flies to sugar with microscopes, disguises and other copybook paraphernalia of the sleuth hunter. Many continue searching for clues long after the police have given up hope. They have a Penrod naivete and eagerness and hard-boiled police veterans show them a tolerance that is pleasant. At least, they do no harm.

Apartment building owners deplore a murder in one of their apartments, not only for the bad repute it gives a building, but for actual loss from rental. Nearly always the apartment is re-numbered and loquacious elevator boys are dismissed, but even then the news leaks out and renters want immediately to move. There is a $10,000 a year apartment on the upper west side that was the scene of a brutal murder seven years ago. Two tenants occupied it for a little more than two months at a stretch, but they were the only occupants since the tragedy.

New York leads the world in pedestrianic pests who take the sidewalk. Two of them were galloping north on Madison Avenue, spinning several passersby on their heels and crowding a few others to the gutters with no thought of apology. At 50th street they brushed a lady walking with a sedate looking gentleman. But he wasn't so sedate. He grabbed each of them, knocked their heads together and demanded they apologize to the lady. They did abjectly, nor have I ever seen such an exhibition of what the prize fighter knows as "yellow."

Fifty Fifty

By DR. FRANK CRANE

It is now proposed that England and America co-operate in connection with a line of dirigibles to cross the Atlantic in 48 hours.

An American company is forming to build ships in this country to operate under the American flag, and similar work is going forward in England.

Why wouldn't it be well for other forms of industry to do likewise?

Is it not time to substitute international co-operation for international competition?

Competition is a back number, anyhow. When the United States Steel Corporation was formed it was declared that most of its stock was water. That stock is now worth way above par.

Co-operation has immensely outdistanced competition.

New chain stores are constantly forming, for it is found that a chain store system can buy goods for much less than an individual store.

We are getting away from distrust of trusts and discovering that the main advantage in a combination is a saving of waste. War is always expensive and often quite as expensive to the victor as to the vanquished.

The same thing is true of nations. Perhaps all wars are indirectly caused by trade competition. At least some people are fond of asserting that this is the case.

Why is it not a good time for nations to lay aside their belligerent attitude in regard to matters of commerce and co-operate one with another for the mutual benefit of both?

Reciprocal or favored nation treaties have already been formed between various countries, but they do not go far enough. There is an immense population in France of hard-working, industrious people. There is also an immense population of similar folk in the United States. These two countries ought to be able to get together and for the mutual profit of both peoples join in their commercial enterprises.

Is not a good way to prevent war in the shape of armed conflict some method of preventing war in industry? We have long ago got over the idea in business that the prosperity of one concern is to be measured by the wrecking or failure of other concerns.

The Ford Motor Company does not have any especial grudge against the General Motors Company, but it is considered that the success of one heightens the probability of the success of the other.

Why could not the same thing hold true with nations? Instead of regarding with envy and distrust the prosperity of another people, why could we not rejoice in it as being an argument for the success of our nation?

Already the United States has many dollars invested in foreign enterprises and surely the safety of our investors rests upon the soundness of those investments. We have an interest in promoting the welfare of the whole world. Whatever will go toward bringing nations closer together commercially will be a new step in advance and toward the promotion of peace and the absence of war.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

MRS. REGINALD C. VANDERBILT, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. John Alden Carpenter and a long list of other social lights are permitting their names and photographs to be used for advertising. For the most part they advertise mattresses and cigarets. Would you call that a straw vote?

New York stores say they could sell gowns cheaper if the wealthy women would pay promptly. One reason the price of gowns is high was explained this way:

A prominent New Yorker bought and charged an imported black net evening gown with a smashing jade green bow on one side. A lovely thing.

Next day the gown came back with the explanation that it wouldn't do. It was put on the marked down rack, because it had been worn. And the net was rumpled and stretched.

Had the woman been less important a protest would have been made. Some less important customer paid that loss in the price of some other gown.

The fair sex!

The Chinese may be strange people, but a Western woman says New York society women are far funnier.

"I moved there from the West," says she, "and met the women with the top notch names. At bridge parties they would say very casually, 'Dear lend me $3,000.' (sometimes it was $5,000) and they never mentioned the money again. I suppose it would be vulgar."

How to get it back? That is what the California lady wants to know.

Maybe some puzzle expert can tell her how to use cross words that won't spell social ruin.

A woman astrologer named Vordell proves astrologically that Col. Lindbergh has no antipathy to women.

And now what?

The inimitable Texas took a group of her "little girls" to whom folks "give a hand" to hear Aimee preach. After a long sermon they were introduced. Texas was getting fidgety and said to Aimee, "We've got to be getting away from YOUR PLACE now and getting over to MY PLACE."

There was no "racket" when they left!
